New Thrust Seen Aimed At Castro

'We Shall Return,' Proclaims Civilian Leader Of Refugees

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of another possible thrust against Fidel Castro surged through the Cuban exile colony today even as freed prisoners of the last attempt were reunited with newly arrived relatives.

The relatives, numbering more than 900, came aboard the African Pilot, the vessel that took food and medicine ransom supplies to Castro for release of 1,113 captives taken in the April 1961, Bay of Pigs invasion.

"We shall return," proclaimed Manuel Artime, civilian leader of the attack expedition, who along with other invasion chiefs met with President Kennedy in Palm Beach Thursday.

"Papa Kennedy," as ex-prisoners call the man in the White House, announced that he will attend a ceremony in the Orange Bowl Saturday honoring the brigade. Exiles looking toward future anti-Castro action interpreted this as a hopeful sign.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, which dispatched the brigade to the Bay of Pigs, declared:

"An irrevocable resolution unites all of them (the returned prisoners) to return to Cuba with arms in hand to liberate the country from degrading and brutal vassalage to Soviet Russia."

Several hundred of the 463 women, 217 men and 242 children who arrived on the African Pilot were quartered in a spacious Miami building provided by the Cuban Refugee Center. The center, operated by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also provided meals for returnees until they got settled. Others went to homes of friends or relatives.

The Cuban Families Committee, which, through New York attorney James B. Donovan and with U.S. government help, sponsored the return of the prisoners, reported another boatload of relatives will come.

"The next boat that takes supplies of medicines and foodstuffs to Havana will return with 2,000 more Cubans," said a committee official.

There was no immediate confirmation of this.

Kennedy told the Cuban delegation in Palm Beach that he "hopes some day to visit a free Cuba."

With Artime to see the President were Jose Perez San Roman, military commander of the inva-

Celebrezze Flies To Florida

Kennedy Takes New Look At Health, Education Plan

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze flew to this oceanside resort city Thursday to prepare for a midmorning conference with Kennedy on the Welfare Department's new budget and legislative recommendations.

Accompanying Celebrezze were Assistant Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen and Francis Keppel, the new commissioner of education.

Although all department programs were slated for review, Keppel's presence indicated a major emphasis on education proposals that failed at the last session of Congress.

New proposals the administration is expected to endorse include expanded aid to the mentally retarded and promotion of vocational education.

Kennedy also is expected to renew his advocacy of more federal aid for schools and colleges and expanded student loan and adult education programs.

The President turns his attention to these matters following two days of meetings on his 1963 tax cut plan and a lengthy session with Pentagon leaders on military spending.

Underlying all the talks was the need to pin down final figures for the federal budget which goes to Congress next month. This bulky document will call for outlays of about $99 billion—a new high—in the 12 months starting July 1.

The administration hopes to get a new budget director on the payroll today—provided a qualified Floridian is found to administer the oath.

Kermit Gordon, who has been a member of Kennedy's three-man Council of Economic Advisers, is to take over the job from David E. Bell, sworn in last week as foreign aid administrator.

Plans were made to swear in Gordon at a brief ceremony at Kennedy's vacation headquarters. However, a search was on to locate someone qualified under Florida laws to administer official oaths. None of the White House functionaries on the scene was qualified.

Explosion Described Biggest Yet

Heard For Miles; No Indication Who Touched Off Blast

BERLIN (AP) — The biggest explosive assault ever against the Red wall dividing Berlin was carried out before dawn today.

There was no immediate indication of who set the blast.

The explosion ripped a three-foot square hole in the wall and smashed 600 windows in neighboring buildings, including 150 in a fire brigade headquarters.

West Berlin police said it was the biggest explosive charge laid against the wall in its 16 months of existence, although previous smaller explosions have caused more damage to the wall itself.

The explosion went off 100 yards from the site of another explosion Dec. 16. That time three men set a charge and gave themselves up to police five minutes before it went off.

Both blasts went off in the Jerusalemer Strasse, 800 yards from the U.S. Army's checkpoint Charlie, at Friedrichstrasse.

Nobody was hurt in today's explosion but a wooden weather shelter used by West Berlin police was ripped apart. It was empty at the time.

Dr. Kelsey's Head Of Drug Probe Group

Kept Thalidomide Off U.S. Market; Hailed As Heroine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, hailed as national heroine for keeping thalidomide off the American market, today was put at the head of a new U.S. office which will pass on requests to test new drugs on humans.

Her appointment as director of the investigational drug branch was part of a reorganization at the Food and Drug Administration's new drug division which was approved today by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

In a statement Celebrezze said the retooling of the drug division into five branches will permit the FDA to cope with its increased responsibilities in the new drug area.

As a backlash of the outcry over thalidomide — a sedative blamed for deformities of thousands of infants born in Europe —Congress last October enacted a law giving the FDA stronger authority over production and sales of prescription drugs.

To carry out the new law and to make administration changes the FDA proposed a rash of tighter regulations which after being discussed and criticized are now being redrafted.

An FDA spokesman said today that the regulations dealing with the testing of drugs on humans will be issued fairly soon.

Dr. Kelsey's investigational drug branch, according to the FDA announcement, "is being established to evaluate reports of proposed clinical tests of new drugs" which manufacturers and others will submit in compliance with the investigational drug regulations.

William Kind Enters GOP Mayor Race

William T. Kind, 216 Walnut St., filed today with the County Election Board for the Republican nomination for mayor in the May primaries, first to enter officially from either party.

Kind, a former councilman, sought the nomination unsuccessfully two years ago, losing in a three-way race.

Kind operates the Bill Kind Coal Co.

Two Democrats have announced for the mayor's post, but neither actually has filed. Mayor Bert H. Goodballet announced Dec. 20 he would run for a third term. Clifford J. Cooper of St. George St., also a former councilman, announced for the Democratic nomination yesterday.

Kind formerly served as a ward councilman. In the GOP municipal primaries two years ago, he ran against Paul V. Baxter, also a former councilman, and ex-mayor O. Earl Greenawalt.

Greenawalt won the GOP race, but lost in November to Goodballet, who defeated Lawrence A. Finlay in the primaries.

Heights Car Damaged In Mishap With Truck

A Pleasant Heights man's auto was damaged in a mishap with a truck at 8:57 a.m. today on E. 6th St. near Broadway, police reported.

The collision involved a 1959 model four - door sedan driven by James Atwood, 37, of 1525 Lisbon St. and a 1960 model truck operated by Richard T. Sisley, 36, of 1218 Northside Ave. and owned by Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., of Columbus, police said.

Atwood said the passing truck hit his left front fender as he was pulling into a parking spot. The trucker told police the auto bumped his rear wheels as he was passing. The truck was undamaged.

Labor Chief Re-Enters Dock Strike

Makes Urgent Plea For Talk Renewal In National Interest

By The Associated Press

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has re-entered the crippling dock strike with an urgent plea to both longshoremen and ship owners to resume negotiations in the name of the national interest.

The International Longshoremen's Association's chief negotiator, however, said only a new proposal by the ship owners can break the deadlock. And he expressed doubt about an early end to the six-day strike along the East and Gulf Coasts.

These developments came as the strike saw its first flareup of violence — the shooting of a dock-worker who crossed ILA picket lines in Galveston, Tex. The no-union worker was wounded in a foot.

The current strike actually started last October, went on for four days and was halted by a Taft-Hartley law injunction. It was resumed at the expiration of an 80-day cooling off period.

Wirtz, who has been out of the negotiations since the ILA and the ship owners held their last joint bargaining session before the strike started Sunday, scheduled separate meetings with each side.

The labor secretary set a meeting for 4 p.m. today with representatives of the New York Shipping Association, which represents 135 domestic and foreign lines. He set a meeting for 11 a.m. Saturday with the ILA.

Wirtz sent telegrams Thursday to both sides saying: "It is imperative to the national interest that negotiations be resumed."

The strike of 60,000 longshoremen has effectively closed all East and Gulf Coast ports to all but military, emergency and dangerous cargoes, which the union itself has exempted from the strike provisions.

The ILA executive vice president and chief union negotiator, Thomas W. Gleason, said only a new proposal by the shippers could help at this point.

Gleason, who set a meeting of the ILA's wage scale committee for this afternoon, said he didn't think the strike would end in the next few days no matter what, since any agreement reached would have to be ratified by the union members.

Rhodes Picks Bexley Man Liquor Chief

The newest Rhodes appointment came late Thursday when he named Don D. Cook, 48, of Bexley, Columbus suburb, to be director of the Department of Liquor Control when the GOP administration takes office Jan. 14.

Cook's appointment was coupled with one for Lt. Col. Floyd C. Moon, assistant superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, as first deputy liquor director in charge of enforcement and permits.

Cook joins these other director-designates for major state departments as an incoming cabinet member: Richard Lowell Krabach of Lima, finance; Pearl E. Masheter of Columbus, highways; George E. Wilson of Akron, industrial and economic development, and Denver L. White of Athens, welfare.

When Rhodes was mayor of Columbus, Cook served as his safety director. Cook served in the Highway Patrol beginning in 1937, then was an FBI agent from 1941 to 1948 when he took a position in the Arson Investigation Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for Ohio.

Moon, 54, headed the plain-clothes division of the patrol for 15 of his 29 years on the force.

Firm Leases Structure As Shipping Site

A Cleveland concern is completing negotiations to lease a big one-story brick building on Pennsylvania Ave. from Ken Buckley Cartage, Inc., for use in packaging and trans-shipping fluorspar, a mineral utilized in steel mill operations.

The 200-x-35-foot building now is occupied by the city street department, which is making arrangements to move out its equipment and ash stockpiles. The city has rented the building for about six years at $100 monthly.

The building will be occupied by the Seaforth Mineral & Oil Co., which contemplates a one-year lease with an option to renew for five years.

The new occupant expects to ship fluorspar to East Liverpool by Ohio River barge, then move it to the East End building for packaging and trans-shipping.

The building is part of the former Valley Motor Transit Co. bus barn property which Buckley Cartage acquired several years ago. The transit firm's headquarters is in the former bus barn. The newly - leased building is immediately to the east, adjoining Columbian Park.

The street department expects to vacate the structure by late January. It will move some of its equipment to a new storage and maintenance building which the Boyd Lumber Co. of Glenmoor is erecting under contract on E. 2nd St.

As a result of vacating the building, the city's biggest problem will be finding indoor storage for its ash stockpiles. The cinders now are kept in the East End building.

If stored outside, they can be mixed with salt to prevent the stockpile from freezing into a solid mass, but that method is not as satisfactory as inside storage, Asst. Supt. Ed Bowersock said.

2 Are Burned As Fast Fire Razes Home

2 Children Led To Safety; Man Drops Wife From Window

A Chester district father led his two sons to safety and dropped his wife from a window but both parents suffered burns when their one-story home was destroyed in a fast - spreading fire about 2 a. m. today.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reed were treated at City Hospital about two hours after the four-room dwelling was razed so quickly that no fire departments were called.

Mrs. Reed suffered first and second degree burns of the face, both arms and neck, and her husband received first degree burns of the toes of his left foot.

According to neighbors, the father got the two children out, James, 13, and Tommy, 4, and then dropped his wife out of a bedroom window. One of the boys reportedly had his hair singed.

The house, all furnishings and contents, were destroyed. Reed was able to save a car and a truck parked nearby.

The McCoys said they were awakened about 1:43 a. m. by screams and discovered the whole end of the Reed home in flames. Apparently by that time, Reed

Mr. K Note To Adenauer Is Denounced

BONN (AP)—West Germany denounced as grotesque and misinformed today a letter from Premier Khrushchev accusing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of stirring up trouble in Berlin and leading the world on the road to war.

Adenauer's Socialist opposition joined the government in denouncing the Soviet leader's letter. Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said the letter indicated the Kremlin was misinformed on important aspects of Berlin.

Adenauer's press chief Karl-Guenther Von Hase singled out Khrushchev's charge that West Germany was preparing the nation for a civil war with East Germany.

"This accusation is not only the most grotesque ever made but shows also a great misconception of the German problem by the Kremlin," Von Haser told a news conference.

He said the West German government regrets what he called "the disgraceful, untrue and insulting language" of the letter which Khrushchev sent to Adenauer Monday.

Crucible Plans Discussed

Most Of '63 Expenditures To Go To Midland Works

The president of the Crucible Steel Co. of America told a press conference in Pittsburgh Thursday a relatively high percentage of 1963 expenditures will go into the Midland Works.

Joel Hunter, head of the specialty steel firm, said Crucible had capital expenditures of about $8.5 million this year and this will be increased somewhat next year.

The total might go as high as $10 million although there are no major projects in the planning stage.

Discussing prospects for 1963, Hunter said that, based on the trend of the past, Crucible "considers it realistic" to shape next year's planning to provide for an increase in the hourly rates of steel labor.

He added he has no idea what will occur in labor negotiations with the United Steelworkers in the coming year but he "is prepared for any outcome." However, he said he does not anticipate that Crucible's employment costs will be higher.

Thus, on top of an improvement in financial performance this year, Hunter expects the company's 1963 billing to be about the same as in 1962, but net profit will be higher.

The steel executive said Crucible will earn about $1.50 per common share this year on sales of about $240 million compared with per share earnings of 30 cents on sales of $195 million in 1961.

He anticipates 1962 net of more

India, Pakistan Break Off Talks On Kashmir

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) —India and Pakistan broke off talks on Kashmir today after one session showed both countries standing firm on their claims to the Himalayan state.

The negotiators agreed to meet again in New Delhi on Jan. 16-17 but observers in the Indian capital said prospects were slim for a settlement of the 15-year dispute.

The interruption of the ministerial talks came suddenly. They had been scheduled to last three days.

Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice scored the top grade in a field of seven who competed in a Municipal Civil Service examination Thursday night at City Hall, assuring him of appointment as a police department lieutenant.

Only two others scored passing grades in the test, the commission announced. Patrolman Kenneth Mooney ranked second and Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. was third.

P. K. Calhoon, clerk of the commission, said he will certify Officer Tice's name today to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, the appointing authority. Under state law, only the name of the top man is certified in a promotional exam and the appointment is automatic.

For New Year's Tuesday

2nd Long Holiday Due For Some District Offices

It will be a long weekend for some district offices observing New Year's with the suspension or curtailment lasting over three days through the last of 1962 and into the first of 1963.

Some will be closed Monday and Tuesday while others will shut only on the holiday. But things will go back into high gear Wednesday for all.

As on the Christmas weekend, City Hall will be closed from Saturday noon until Wednesday morning. It's a general pattern in federal, state and county offices.

However, a brief session of Municipal Court will be held Monday at 9 a.m. to assure that persons arrested over the weekend and unable to post bond will not be required to remain in jail unnecessarily on the holiday.

District potteries will curtail operations from Saturday through Tuesday, giving many workers a three - day holiday.

Despite the holiday Tuesday, East Liverpool stores will close at noon Wednesday. Stores normally operate until 5 p.m. on Wednesday in weeks when they close for a holiday. The policy was established for member stores of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Ohio State Liquor Stores in East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine and Salem will be open until 9 p. m. tonight and from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday. They will close at 6 New Year's Eve.

Labor Chief Re-Enters Dock Strike

Makes Urgent Plea For Talk Renewal In National Interest

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has re-entered the crippling dock strike with an urgent plea to both longshoremen and ship owners to resume negotiations in the name of the national interest.

Wirtz sent telegrams Thursday to both sides saying: "It is imperative to the national interest that negotiations be resumed."

The strike of 60,000 longshoremen has effectively closed all East and Gulf Coast ports to all but military, emergency and dangerous cargoes, which the union itself has exempted from the strike provisions.

The ILA executive vice president and chief union negotiator, Thomas W. Gleason, said only a new proposal by the shippers could help at this point.

Gleason, who set a meeting of the ILA's wage scale committee for this afternoon, said he didn't think the strike would end in the next few days no matter what, since any agreement reached would have to be ratified by the union members.

India, Pakistan Break Off Talks On Kashmir

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) —India and Pakistan broke off talks on Kashmir today after one session showed both countries standing firm on their claims to the Himalayan state.

The negotiators agreed to meet again in New Delhi on Jan. 16-17 but observers in the Indian capital said prospects were slim for a settlement of the 15-year dispute.

The interruption of the ministerial talks came suddenly. They had been scheduled to last three days.

Rhodes Picks Bexley Man Liquor Chief

The newest Rhodes appointment came late Thursday when he named Don D. Cook, 48, of Bexley, Columbus suburb, to be director of the Department of Liquor Control when the GOP administration takes office Jan. 14.

Cook's appointment was coupled with one for Lt. Col. Floyd C. Moon, assistant superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, as first deputy liquor director in charge of enforcement and permits.

Cook joins these other director-designates for major state departments as an incoming cabinet member: Richard Lowell Krabach of Lima, finance; Pearl E. Masheter of Columbus, highways; George E. Wilson of Akron, industrial and economic development, and Denver L. White of Athens, welfare.

When Rhodes was mayor of Columbus, Cook served as his safety director. Cook served in the Highway Patrol beginning in 1937, then was an FBI agent from 1941 to 1948 when he took a position in the Arson Investigation Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for Ohio.

Moon, 54, headed the plainclothes division of the patrol for 15 of his 29 years on the force.

Firm Leases Structure As Shipping Site

A Cleveland concern is completing negotiations to lease a big one-story brick building on Pennsylvania Ave. from Ken Buckley Cartage, Inc., for use in packaging and trans-shipping fluorspar, a mineral utilized in steel mill operations.

The 200-x-35-foot building now is occupied by the city street department, which is making arrangements to move out its equipment and ash stockpiles. The city has rented the building for about six years at $100 monthly.

The building will be occupied by the Seaforth Mineral & Oil Co., which contemplates a one-year lease with an option to renew for five years.

The new occupant expects to ship fluorspar to East Liverpool by Ohio River barge, then move it to the East End building for packaging and trans-shipping.

The building is part of the former Valley Motor Transit Co. bus barn property which Buckley Cartage acquired several years ago. The transit firm's headquarters is in the former bus barn. The newly - leased building is immediately to the east, adjoining Columbian Park.

The street department expects to vacate the structure by late January. It will move some of its equipment to a new storage and maintenance building which the Boyd Lumber Co. of Glenmoor is erecting under contract on E. 2nd St.

As a result of vacating the building, the city's biggest problem will be finding indoor storage for its ash stockpiles. The cinders now are kept in the East End building.

If stored outside, they can be mixed with salt to prevent the stockpile from freezing into a solid mass, but that method is not as satisfactory as inside storage, Asst. Supt. Ed Bowersock said.

2 Children Led To Safety; Man Drops Wife From Window

A Chester district father led his two sons to safety and dropped his wife from a window but both parents suffered burns when their one-story home was destroyed in a fast - spreading fire about 2 a. m. today.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reed were treated at City Hospital about two hours after the four-room dwelling was razed so quickly that no fire departments were called.

Mrs. Reed suffered first and second degree burns of the face, both arms and neck, and her husband received first degree burns of the toes of his left foot.

According to neighbors, the father got the two children out, James, 13, and Tommy, 4, and then dropped his wife out of a bedroom window. One of the boys reportedly had his hair singed.

The house, all furnishings and contents, were destroyed. Reed was able to save a car and a truck parked nearby.

The McCoys said they were awakened about 1:43 a. m. by screams and discovered the whole end of the Reed home in flames. Apparently by that time, Reed

Mr. K Note To Adenauer Is Denounced

BONN (AP)—West Germany denounced as grotesque and misinformed today a letter from Premier Khrushchev accusing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of stirring up trouble in Berlin and leading the world on the road to war.

Adenauer's Socialist opposition joined the government in denouncing the Soviet leader's letter. Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said the letter indicated the Kremlin was misinformed on important aspects of Berlin.

Adenauer's press chief Karl-Guenther Von Hase singled out Khrushchev's charge that West Germany was preparing the nation for a civil war with East Germany.

"This accusation is not only the most grotesque ever made but shows also a great misconception of the German problem by the Kremlin," Von Haser told a news conference.

He said the West German government regrets what he called "the disgraceful, untrue and insulting language" of the letter which Khrushchev sent to Adenauer Monday.

Crucible Plans Discussed

Most Of '63 Expenditures To Go To Midland Works

The president of the Crucible Steel Co. of America told a press conference in Pittsburgh Thursday a relatively high percentage of 1963 expenditures will go into the Midland Works.

Joel Hunter, head of the specialty steel firm, said Crucible had capital expenditures of about $8.5 million this year and this will be increased somewhat next year.

The total might go as high as $10 million although there are no major projects in the planning stage.

Discussing prospects for 1963, Hunter said that, based on the trend of the past, Crucible "considers it realistic" to shape next year's planning to provide for an increase in the hourly rates of steel labor.

He added he has no idea what will occur in labor negotiations with the United Steelworkers in the coming year but he "is prepared for any outcome." However, he said he does not anticipate that Crucible's employment costs will be higher.

Thus, on top of an improvement in financial performance this year, Hunter expects the company's 1963 billing to be about the same as in 1962, but net profit will be higher.

The steel executive said Crucible will earn about $1.50 per common share this year on sales of about $240 million compared with per share earnings of 30 cents on sales of $195 million in 1961.

He anticipates 1962 net of more

For New Year's Tuesday

It will be a long weekend for some district offices observing New Year's with the suspension or curtailment lasting over three days through the last of 1962 and into the first of 1963.

Some will be closed Monday and Tuesday while others will shut only on the holiday. But things will go back into high gear Wednesday for all.

As on the Christmas weekend, City Hall will be closed from Saturday noon until Wednesday morning. It's a general pattern in federal, state and county offices.

However, a brief session of Municipal Court will be held Monday at 9 a.m. to assure that persons arrested over the weekend and unable to post bond will not be required to remain in jail unnecessarily on the holiday.

District potteries will curtail operations from Saturday through Tuesday, giving many workers a three - day holiday.

Despite the holiday Tuesday, East Liverpool stores will close at noon Wednesday. Stores normally operate until 5 p.m. on Wednesday in weeks when they close for a holiday. The policy was established for member stores of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Ohio State Liquor Stores in East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine and Salem will be open until 9 p. m. tonight and from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday. They will close at 6 New Year's Eve.

Dirt To Be Put Down Mine Shaft To Quell Fire

GRANT TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Emergency crews hoped that by dumping tons of earth down two air shafts today they could smother a fire burning out of control deep inside one of West Virginia's biggest coal mines.

A series of gas explosions which rocketed flames, smoke and debris an estimated 200 feet into the air from the air shaft openings blocked attempts yesterday to check the blaze by capping the shafts with heavy concrete seals.

The fire was in the Federal No. 1 mine of Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, five miles northwest of Grant Town. The mine employs 350 men.

No injuries were reported. Because of the fire, first discovered Christmas morning, no one was working in the mine when the explosions began.

The first blast shook the mine late Wednesday night. There was another early yesterday morning and then nine more explosions in a 55 - minute stretch yesterday afternoon.

Families were evacuated from several homes in the immediate area of the two air shafts. Numerous windows were broken.

Officials explained that hydrocarbon gases given off by the fire combined with pockets of methane, an explosive gas commonly found underground, to maintain the series of explosions.

Soon after discovery of the fire, crews sealed eight areas underground. The hope was that oxygen would be exhausted, putting out the fire, before the methane reached an explosive concentration.

It didn't work that way. The first explosion Wednesday night blew out the underground seals.

Crews then undertook to smother the blaze by sealing shaft openings at the surface. Concrete seals held on five openings but not on the two air shafts.

"They no sooner get a seal on than it blows off," said a Marion County sheriff's deputy.

Located a half-mile apart and some five miles from the main personnel shaft, the air shafts are 430 and 525 feet deep.

Last night A. P. Boxley of Pittsburgh, EG&F manager of mines, explained the new plan to smother the blaze with dirt.

It involved setting up strings of conveyors to bring earth to the shaft openings. This way personnel wouldn't have to work close to the openings and risk injury by explosions.

Personnel at the scene included Leonard J. Timms of Charleston, director of the State Mines Department, and J. J. Dougherty of Morgantown, sub-district director for the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Final Word Due In February

Some Sting Taken From Expense Account Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the sting is gone from the new revenue rules on expense accounts but taxpayers must wait until February for final word on what they can deduct for business travel, entertainment and gift-giving.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin announced Thursday night revised standards for keeping records in the government's drive to raise an additional $100 million or more by putting a tax cramp on expense account living.

The changes softened in several places the regulations Caplin originally proposed last month. Those regulations set off screams from coast to coast. Businessmen insisted they'd never be able to stay even with the paper work and argued a cutback in spending on travel, dining, wining and theatergoing would hurt the economy.

For one thing, the new rules lift from $10 to $25 the amount that can be spent in one shot—such as playing host at dinner for prospective clients—without requiring a receipt.

The modified regulations apply only to keeping expense records to back up claims for business travel and entertainment deductions. The government still must clarify such questions as to what constitutes a business dinner for clients and whether the host can deduct his wife's share of the tab if she goes along. It also must define "lavish" personal outlays —putting down too fancy a liquor bill, for instance, or hiring a plane instead of going by train.

Caplin said all this will be done in February.

Caplin described the new record-keeping rules as "reasonable and practical," the type observed for years by prudent men and companies. Yet, he said, "they will go far to eliminate expense account abuses."

Only about 10 per cent of taxpayers claim these deductions, Caplin said. The crackdown, he added, "merely puts one element of our society on a parity with the other 90 per cent."

Caplin said the government would allow a month for businessmen to familiarize themselves with the revised regulations, which take effect Jan. 1. Revenue agents are being instructed to observe reasonable tolerances in applying them to expenses incurred in January.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do when I get too much salt in my soup or gravy?

A. Counteract it by adding a teaspoonful of sugar and a teaspoonful of vinegar, and then cooking it a little longer. Or, drop in a whole peeled raw potato and let it cook awhile, then remove the potato before serving. In the case of thick soup or gravy, grate in the raw potato and let it stay. In fact, grated potato can be used to thicken a soup when necessary.

Q. How can I keep leather chairs and other leather articles clean and shiny looking?

A. By making a practice of rubbing them frequently with egg whites which have been beaten to a stiff consistency.

Q. How can I improvise a hair shampoo when I find that I'm out of the real thing?

UN, Katanga Troops Clash In New Fight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Shooting broke out again between U.N. and Katangan troops on the outskirts of Elisabethville Thursday night and continued through the night, according to reliable reports reaching Brussels from Kitwe, Northern Rhodesia.

The reports from Kitwe said heavy shooting was still going on at 8:30 a.m.

Telegraph and telephone communications between Elisabethville and Brussels were interrupted.

Steady shooting was heard near plants of the Union Miniere Company and another European concern, and all personnel of the two plants were evacuated to safety, according to the Kitwe reports.

The reports said Katanga President Moise Tshombe and the chief U.N. representative in Katanga, Eliud Mathu, met Thursday night to discuss a cease-fire.

No other details were available so far.

It was the second shooting reported this week between U.N. and Katangan troops in the Elisabethville area. Heavy shooting continued for several hours on Christmas day, although the U.N. command claimed its forces did not fire a shot. The Katangans shot down a U.N. helicopter, killed an Indian lieutenant and beat up other members of the helicopter crew.

Tension has mounted in Elisabethville since U.N. Secretary-general U Thant announced he was stepping up pressure to end Katanga's secession from the central Congo government and the United States sent a military mission to the Congo last week.

Palestine Opinion Sought On Turbine

EAST PALESTINE — Public reaction on how to handle a contract for a new turbine for the municipal light plant will be sought by Mayor Robert Harding at a public meeting tonight at 8.

Mayor Harding called the meeting after the city was advised the Allis-Chalmers Co., which was awarded a $593,000 contract in August, is discontinuing the manufacture of turbines.

One course open to the city would be the sale of the contract to another of the six firms that submitted bids, officials said.

Her Brother's Keeper

BALTIMORE (AP) — At a day-old bread store, a woman customer asked whose limousine was parked outside by the expired parking meter. When no one in the shop seemed to know, she said she hated to see anyone get a ticket and walked out with her day-old bread and put a nickel of her own in the meter.

Williams Gets 6-12 Years

BEAVER — Carooll H. Williams was sentenced this morning by Judge Robert E. McCreary to 6-12 years for the death of Loretta Dean Schultz of Freedom R. D. last July 31.

Williams was found guilty by a jury last Friday by voluntary manslaughter in the strangulation death of Mrs. Schultz.

Judge McCreary recommended that Williams be given a psychiartic examination and treatment. The judge stipulated that if Williams does not co-operate, he will not be released at the end of the minimum term.

Prior to sentencing, Williams' attorney, John Conte, asked the court to consider rehabilitation rather than punishment.

Williams was convicted in 1958 of assault with intent to kill and was sentenced to 2-4 years. He was released at the end of two years with the promise to make restitution.

Judge McCreary said, "He (Williams) promised to pay $2,500 to an old man he almost murdered and never paid one cent."

Williams was also charged in California with being an accessory to grand larceny and forgery. He is an ex-Monaca resident.

Dirt To Be Put Down Mine Shaft To Quell Fire

GRANT TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Emergency crews hoped that by dumping tons of earth down two air shafts today they could smother a fire burning out of control deep inside one of West Virginia's biggest coal mines.

A series of gas explosions which rocketed flames, smoke and debris an estimated 200 feet into the air from the air shaft openings blocked attempts yesterday to check the blaze by capping the shafts with heavy concrete seals.

The fire was in the Federal No. 1 mine of Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, five miles northwest of Grant Town. The mine employs 350 men.

No injuries were reported. Because of the fire, first discovered Christmas morning, no one was working in the mine when the explosions began.

The first blast shook the mine late Wednesday night. There was another early yesterday morning and then nine more explosions in a 55-minute stretch yesterday afternoon.

Families were evacuated from several homes in the immediate area of the two air shafts. Numerous windows were broken.

Officials explained that hydrocarbon gases given off by the fire combined with pockets of methane, an explosive gas commonly found underground, to maintain the series of explosions.

Soon after discovery of the fire, crews sealed eight areas underground. The hope was that oxygen would be exhausted, putting out the fire, before the methane reached an explosive concentration.

It didn't work that way. The first explosion Wednesday night blew out the underground seals.

Crews then undertook to smother the blaze by sealing shaft openings at the surface. Concrete seals held on five openings but not on the two air shafts.

"They no sooner get a seal on than it blows off," said a Marion County sheriff's deputy.

Located a half-mile apart and some five miles from the main personnel shaft, the air shafts are 430 and 525 feet deep.

Last night A. P. Boxley of Pittsburgh, EG&F manager of mines, explained the new plan to smother the blaze with dirt.

It involved setting up strings of conveyors to bring earth to the shaft openings. This way personnel wouldn't have to work close to the openings and risk injury by explosions.

Personnel at the scene included Leonard J. Timms of Charleston, director of the State Mines Department, and J. J. Dougherty of Morgantown, sub-district director for the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Final Word Due In February

Some Sting Taken From Expense Account Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the sting is gone from the new revenue rules on expense accounts but taxpayers must wait until February for final word on what they can deduct for business travel, entertainment and gift-giving.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin announced Thursday night revised standards for keeping records in the government's drive to raise an additional $100 million or more by putting a tax cramp on expense account living.

The changes softened in several places the regulations Caplin originally proposed last month. Those regulations set off screams from coast to coast. Businessmen insisted they'd never be able to stay even with the paper work and argued a cutback in spending on travel, dining, wining and theater-going would hurt the economy.

For one thing, the new rules lift from $10 to $25 the amount that can be spent in one shot—such as playing host at dinner for prospective clients—without requiring a receipt.

The modified regulations apply only to keeping expense records to back up claims for business travel and entertainment deductions. The government still must clarify such questions as to what constitutes a business dinner for clients and whether the host can deduct his wife's share of the tab if she goes along. It also must define "lavish" personal outlays —putting down too fancy a liquor bill, for instance, or hiring a plane instead of going by train.

Caplin said all this will be done in February.

Caplin described the new record-keeping rules as "reasonable and practical," the type observed for years by prudent men and companies. Yet, he said, "they will go far to eliminate expense account abuses."

Only about 10 per cent of taxpayers claim these deductions, Caplin said. The crackdown, he added, "merely puts one element of our society on a parity with the other 90 per cent."

Caplin said the government would allow a month for businessmen to familiarize themselves with the revised regulations, which take effect Jan. 1. Revenue agents are being instructed to observe reasonable tolerances in applying them to expenses incurred in January.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do when I get too much salt in my soup or gravy?

A. Counteract it by adding a teaspoonful of sugar and a teaspoonful of vinegar, and then cooking it a little longer. Or, drop in a whole peeled raw potato and let it cook awhile, then remove the potato before serving. In the case of thick soup or gravy, grate in the raw potato and let it stay. In fact, grated potato can be used to thicken a soup when necessary.

Q. How can I keep leather chairs and other leather articles clean and shiny looking?

A. By making a practice of rubbing them frequently with egg whites which have been beaten to a stiff consistency.

Q. How can I improvise a hair shampoo when I find that I'm out of the real thing?

UN, Katanga Troops Clash In New Fight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Shooting broke out again between U.N. and Katangan troops on the outskirts of Elisabethville Thursday night and continued through the night, according to reliable reports reaching Brussels from Kitwe, Northern Rhodesia.

The reports from Kitwe said heavy shooting was still going on at 8:30 a.m.

Telegraph and telephone communications between Elisabethville and Brussels were interrupted.

Steady shooting was heard near plants of the Union Miniere Company and another European concern, and all personnel of the two plants were evacuated to safety, according to the Kitwe reports.

The reports said Katanga President Moise Tshombe and the chief U.N. representative in Katanga, Eliud Mathu, met Thursday night to discuss a cease-fire.

No other details were available so far.

It was the second shooting reported this week between U.N. and Katangan troops in the Elisabethville area. Heavy shooting continued for several hours on Christmas day, although the U.N. command claimed its forces did not fire a shot. The Katangans shot down a U.N. helicopter, killed an Indian lieutenant and beat up other members of the helicopter crew.

Tension has mounted in Elisabethville since U.N. Secretary-general U Thant announced he was stepping up pressure to end Katanga's secession from the central Congo government and the United States sent a military mission to the Congo last week.

Palestine Opinion Sought On Turbine

EAST PALESTINE — Public reaction on how to handle a contract for a new turbine for the municipal light plant will be sought by Mayor Robert Harding at a public meeting tonight at 8.

Mayor Harding called the meeting after the city was advised the Allis-Chalmers Co., which was awarded a $593,000 contract in August, is discontinuing the manufacture of turbines.

One course open to the city would be the sale of the contract to another of the six firms that submitted bids, officials said.

Her Brother's Keeper

BALTIMORE (AP) — At a day-old bread store, a woman customer asked whose limousine was parked outside by the expired parking meter. When no one in the shop seemed to know, she said she hated to see anyone get a ticket and walked out with her day-old bread and put a nickel of her own in the meter.

Williams Gets 6-12 Years

BEAVER — Carooll H. Williams was sentenced this morning by Judge Robert E. McCreary to 6-12 years for the death of Loretta Dean Schultz of Freedom R. D. last July 31.

Williams was found guilty by a jury last Friday by voluntary manslaughter in the strangulation death of Mrs. Schultz.

Judge McCreary recommended that Williams be given a psychiartic examination and treatment The judge stipulated that if Williams does not co-operate, he will not be released at the end of the minimum term.

Prior to sentencing, Williams' attorney, John Conte, asked the court to consider rehabilitation rather than punishment.

Williams was convicted in 1958 of assault with intent to kill and was sentenced to 2-4 years. He was released at the end of two years with the promise to make restitution.

The Picture Is Never Bright

The theme of J. Edgar Hoover's annual reports about the Federal Bureau of Investigation is unvarying. Conditions are going from bad to worse.

All the old crimes and menaces were still with us in 1960, but in increasing volume. The FBI encountered a thumping 25 per cent increase in bank robberies and thefts in 1961.

In 1961, Mr. Hoover stressed an "astounding" upsurge of crime in general — during 1960 — up 14 per cent over 1959 and 98 per cent over 1950.

In 1960, his report for 1959 pinpointed "an alarming number of Soviet and satellite diplomatic personnel with intelligence assignments in the United States." Mr. Hoover reminded his countrymen that the Communist party still was the largest U.S. subversive organization and had strengthened its ties with the Soviet Union and Cuban Communists.

IN 1959, his report for 1958 pointed out that arrests of persons under 18 for serious crimes had risen 8.1 per cent over the previous year, whereas arrests of persons over 18 had gone up only 1.8 per cent.

Of the seven most serious crimes — murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny over $50 and auto theft, the largest increase had been in forcible rape — 13 per cent.

The picture Mr. Hoover sees never can be bright; the nature of FBI work makes gloom a certainty. Added to the basic gloom is the special cloud of despair that can be counted on year by year to hang over whichever dark statistic is chosen for special attention.

This year it is an increase in bank robbing and thieving in 1961. However predictable crime is, and it is nearly as predictable as the accident rate, there always will be these dramatic variations within the overall predictability.

WHAT IS necessary in both cases is a way to relate the absolute statistic to the relative statistic.

Is crime increasing faster than it could have been expected to increase?

Is the FBI failing because of the increase?

Does Mr. Hoover think of himself and his remarkable agency disparagingly because crime statistics always grow and never decline?

If pressed, wouldn't he agree with the rest of us, who think the FBI is one of the most successful of all federal agencies despite the fact it gets busier and bigger year by year as the nation grows in all ways, including the bad ones?

Years Of Service

During that time, he has served not only this newspaper capably and conscientiously, but the community as well. Vic has been a moving force behind many civic enterprises over the years and can look back with satisfaction on his varied endeavors.

If anyone deserves the title of "Mr. Review", it is Vic Hughes. It will feel strange not to have him directing the paper's business activities from his busy office.

Assuming the position of business manager and publisher will be George A. Shaw, who has been associated with The Review in an advertising capacity since 1935. Over the years, he, too, has been extremely active in community affairs and always has been an energetic booster of East Liverpool.

Vic will be missed, but it is reassuring to know that a man of Mr. Shaw's ability is moving into his place.

Eventually, No Country Mice

A professor at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Igho Hart Kornblueh, has made one of those reports everybody will talk about for a few days.

Too much indoor life in cities and built-up suburbs is causing a new set of health problems, he declares; humans are not adapted to "greenhouse existence".

The science of biometereology, some of whose practitioners were in Dr. Kornblueh's audience, has its work cut out for it. As medical director of the department of physical medicine at the University of Pennsylvania's graduate hospital, Dr. Kornblueh decries what he sees as the "wearisome monotony of an immured existence within the confines of the residence and the place of employment . . . a life-long, sheltered vegetation punctuated only by short periods of vacation."

The word for what happens is "urbaphrenia," resulting in physical, psychological and social disorders.

This kind of thinking has the same effect as electro-shock treatment on the human mind. After the first impact, a great many people are going to see more clearly than they ever saw before that Dr. Kornblueh is perfectly right or perfectly wrong—and that isn't the way it is at all.

He has forgotten about the town mouse and the country mouse. The moral of their caper in exchanging environments was that every mouse should settle down in the environment that best suits him.

There are gregarious souls who belong in cities, who thrive on congestion, noise and the proximity of their own kind. They would be wretched in the country; they would suffer from "ruraphrenia."

The trick today, as always, is to put the mice where they belong. Right there, though, is where the plot thickens, because if the United States keeps growing there won't be any country left and what happens then to the country mice is something for biometerorologists to start worrying about 24 hours a day, beginning now.

Markers Needed

Quite often deliverymen will stop passers-by and inquire for such and such an alley. And quite often they fail to get an answer, the passersby not knowing.

Out-of-town truckers suffer the most from the lack of markers, but even many local residents are at a loss when looking for West Church lane, Drury lane or some of the other side thoroughfares which are important links with the major streets.

'Little Brother' Always Watching

There is deep public concern over the apparent ability of James R. Hoffa to emerge unscathed and unmarked from every encounter with the U.S. Department of Justice.

People are talking about it. They are wondering if the leader of the powerful Teamsters Union has cornered so much power he looms larger than the federal government. They are speculating about the man's further growth of power if he moves into the places that he has been eyeing — the telephone business, for example.

But there is one thing about the Hoffa saga that must not be forgotten during the recital of the Teamster leader's personal success in staying beyond the reach of the U.S. Department of Justice.

It is the fact Robert Kennedy, head of the department — the "little brother" Mr. Hoffa publicly despises and reviles — is watching the man he has pledged himself to annoy.

These are not the good old days when a Teamster leader like James Beck could run the union without fear of even a second guess. These are days when 14 grand juries are currently looking into the handling of Teamster pension money, when more than 40 of Mr. Hoffa's associates have been indicted during the last year and 8 have been convicted on the charges brought against them.

These are days when the nation's most powerful union and the powerful men who have built their careers on it are never allowed to forget that they are on the defensive; that one major error in their behavior could bring the whole structure tumbling down.

It is relatively unimportant that Robert Kennedy's efforts to find James R. Hoffa's Achilles Heel have been fruitless. Never was the Teamsters Union under such unrelenting scrutiny, which is a break in the favor of its hundreds of thousands of members.

Santa Claus brought paperback reprints of some old books by Lewis Carroll, L. Frank Baum and Hilaire Belloc to our house. They are full of pictures, sort of like clean modern-day comic books, if you'll pardon the expression. Labor To Face 'Friends' At Probes

By Victor Riesel

There may well be a run on witness chairs early in the New Year in Washington. Congressional committees, grand juries and special executive agencies are preparing hot seats — and many a labor leader will be in them facing old "friends."

Victor Riesel

"Sen. McClellan has been preparing one probe which — while not as melodramatic as his previous inquests—may have greater impact and provoke sharper outcries from more influential labor men than did his previous hearings.

The Arkansas gentleman's Permanent Investigations subcommittee is preparing to investigate defense plant strikes, such as the recent 48-hour stoppage at Lockheed. Mr. McClellan, the old skybolt hurler, wants to outlaw such walkouts as that one. It was called by the International Association of Machinists.

It should be noted that such a probe differs sharply from the hearings on missile base and space center construction strikes and inter-union feuds.

THE SENATOR looked into those — and the White House set up the Presidential Missile Sites Labor Commission. This got action.

Now the senator believes there is a strike-gap which must be closed. There is no such commission covering stoppages inside the defense plants, such as Lockheed, which makes among other items, the Polaris city-killer; or Boeing, which is working on the Dyna-Soar, the space war ship; or the Electric Boat plant which turns out the atomic Polaris-carrying submarine.

What will bring down on the senator considerable labor wrath will be hearings on the "agency shop." These inquiries will be built into the broader investigation of the defense plant strikes.

The "agency shop," is in a factory in which the union, in addition to representing its members, is the agent for employes who refuse to join up or for some other reason are not union members.

The "agency shop," created by Arthur Goldberg, also means that the non-joiner must pay the union a fee for its services. The fee usually equals the amount of dues paid by the regular union member.

There is no timetable yet for these hearings. The committee's general counsel, Jerome Adlerman, operating with a small staff, has been busier than a toyshop Santa Claus.

THIS STAFF has been looking into the procurement of the fabulous F-111. Only the senator and his closest associates know exactly what they seek in the probe of the four-to-six-billion-dollar program to produce in mass a craft which can fly 2½ times the speed of sound, and perform triple threat as a fighter, a low-level naissance craft. The F-111, if successful, should be able to fly anywhere on earth in a day without refueling.

Orders have been placed with General Dynamics in Fort Worth, and with Grumman in Bethpage, L.I., New York. It will be built by members of the Machinists Union.

By working far more than a 65-hour week, Mr. Adlerman's staff also is preparing for the committee's hearing on the international narcotics networks. Most of this global apparatus is operated by the American crime syndicate, with which McClellan has tangled before.

BUT NOT ALL the investigations which will excite the land in the next 120 days will be public. In addition to the score of grand juries probing the Teamsters Union there is one which has been looking into a union or two which usually are not involved in these grim matters.

No one breaches grand jury security, but it is known that Al Hartnett, erstwhile secretary-treasurer of the International (IUE), has testified before such an inquiry. Some FBI agents, who have been operating in Washington, also were heard.

Mr. Hartnett has been feuding —not very successfully—with IUE president Jim Carey. At the last union convention Hartnett lost this duel. A few days ago he was suspended by Mr. Carey and the union's executive board for not taking orders.

While the Justice Department's grand juries are sitting all over the country, the Labor Department is preparing some exciting probes of its own.

LABOR SECRETARY Willard Wirtz, a quiet man, has been pushing back some of those who have been pushing others around. He's looking into charges by dissident Teamsters in Philadelphia that they were slugged when they opposed Teamsters administration men.

Wirtz also has won the right to pick up the books of a Jersey Hod Carriers' local—setting a precedent which gives the Labor Department the right to take union books right out of the labor headquarters.

Only a few of the major probes can be reported here. But, there will be hot seats in many a federal hearing room this season.

The Coming Battle

By David Lawrence

Congress Holds Dilemma For Kennedy

David Lawrence

President Kennedy campaigned hard in September and October and called on the voters to increase the Democratic majority in both houses. He failed to get his wish. The after-election declarations by the Democrats that they had swept the country gave the impression that Mr. Kennedy had won but often the actual facts of what happened and the impression the American people derive from reading partisan statements are not always the same.

So the comments recently made by the President himself become more pertinent, as evidently he himself has no illusions about the outcome of the congressional elections.

Now that there has been time to digest what really happened, it is interesting to examine what the President himself said on two occasions to newsmen in his size-up of the election.

IN THE FIRST comment as a press conference on Nov. 20, Mr. Kennedy said in answer to a question asking him what effect the election might have on his program in the next Congress:

"Well, I think we probably will be in a position somewhat comparable to what we were in for the last two years. We did better than we had hoped in the election, but we still did not pick up seats, and we lost in one—a number of votes by very close margins, particularly in the House.

"It really will depend on whether we can maintain a good deal of unity in the Democratic party and also whether we receive some assistance from some Republicans. If the Republicans vote unanimously against us and we lose 40-odd Democrats, about one-fifth of our number, then we will have difficulty. If we get the kind of Republican support that we got at the beginning of last year in the rules fight, then we can put some of these important programs through. So I think we have to wait until they come back before we can make a judgment and we may be in about the position we were in the last two years."

In his Dec. 17 conversation on television with three radio-TV newsmen on the major networks, the President again was asked to measure the chances for significant success domestically in the Congress just ahead. He replied:

"Well, I think we will be about in the same position as the last two years. As I say, what we have that is controversial will be very closely contested."

MR. KENNEDY was then asked if the complexion of the House hadn't changed a little bit by the shifts. The transcript shows this answer:

"I would say slightly against us more than it was. We are not in quite as good shape as we were for the last two years, but we are about where we were the last two years, which means that every vote will be three or four votes either way, winning or losing."

The outstanding fact, of course, is that, despite all the headlines which appeared right after the elections about the big Democratic victory, the result was about a standoff between the two parties. While it is true that the Democrats called it a victory because it wasn't as big a decline for them as in other years, and while it is also true that the Republicans had high hopes of increasing substantially their strength in Congress, the significent point was the impact of the President's own appeal. Despite the most intensive campaign effort prior to a congressional election ever made by an American president in midterm, the voters failed to heed his request for an increased majority.

So Mr. Kennedy is today confronted with a real dilemma. He says he wants the kind of Republican support in Congress that he had at the beginning of last year, but he is not sure whether as many Republicans will line up with him as in the past.

Republican members already are saying Mr. Kennedy was not grateful to them and went into their districts calling for their defeat.

THE CHANCES are the conservative coalition of Republicans and Democrats will be stronger against the President next year than it was before. Also, some Democrats from the South who occasionally supported the President's program may feel the pressure of Southern bitterness against the administration, especially as the Republican organizations now are building up in the South. The outlook for the administration program is therefore affected by all these uncertainties.

Unorganized Labor?

By Raymond Moley

In the last few years, and especially since the coming of the Kennedy administration, the major role of the secretary of labor has been in relations between management and organized labor. But only one-third of the non-agricultural working force and one-quarter of the total labor force are organized in unions.

The preoccupation and sympathies of the labor secretary really mean that he is secretary of organized labor. Who, then, is concerned with the great majority of wage earners?

One official of a large corporation has suggested that perhaps there should be a new cabinet member — a secretary of unorganized labor.

THIS BRINGS UP the old question about the role that certain cabinet members should play. Until the time when the secretary of agriculture appeared in the Cabinet in 1889, the various members thereof were concerned with functions of government. They were in no sense representing large specific interests in the population. But a certain representative character has been imparted to the later additions of commerce, labor, and health, education and welfare.

Just how that representative character should be exercised is not clear. Should these later additions to the cabinet be considered as spokesmen in the administration in behalf of the interests involved? Or should they speak to and make contacts with those private interests in behalf of the administration of which they are a part?

Perhaps the answer to these questions is that they are acting in both capacities. But the line of demarkation has never been clear.

They are also the executive heads of large administrative departments with tens of thousands of employes. But that is incidental to their activities. For as one former department head has said, his real authority over the employes in his department was negative.

He was allowed fewer than a hundred, out of tens of thousands of his nominal employes, whom he could hire and fire on his own responsibility. The rest had tenure under civil service.

THE 10 CABINET officers are really counsellors to be used by the President in determining over-all national policy. They are spokesmen before the public for the President. They are dealing with vast matters which reach far beyond their departments or, in the case of the four I have mentioned, the private interests involved.

In these larger aspects of the responsibilities of the secretary of labor, the business community is convinced that the sympathies and influence of the three most recent incumbents of the office, whenever possible on the side of organized labor.

In disputes on the West Coast, the administration acting through the secretary of labor has been on the side of the unions that are seeking union shops in the big defense plants.

In the California cases the fact-finding board was headed by an individual who was shown by his previous writings to be a partisan of the union shop in industry.

MY CONTENTIONS here would be answered by the assertion that in the Labor Department itself the majority of the bureaus are concerned with wage-earners generally. But these bureaucratic services are incidental to the power and influence of the secretary himself.

The unorganized majority is politically impotent. It is therefore without power to demand adequate recognition by political administrations.

The unions, most of whom are having hard going these days in maintaining their membership, have political potency. Therefore, they have the major share of the government's attention.

The Picture Is Never Bright

The theme of J. Edgar Hoover's annual reports about the Federal Bureau of Investigation is unvarying. Conditions are going from bad to worse.

All the old crimes and menaces were still with us in 1960, but in increasing volume. The FBI encountered a thumping 25 per cent increase in bank robberies and thefts in 1961.

In 1961, Mr. Hoover stressed an "astounding" upsurge of crime in general — during 1960 — up 14 per cent over 1959 and 98 per cent over 1950.

In 1960, his report for 1959 pinpointed "an alarming number of Soviet and satellite diplomatic personnel with intelligence assignments in the United States." Mr. Hoover reminded his countrymen that the Communist party still was the largest U.S. subversive organization and had strengthened its ties with the Soviet Union and Cuban Communists.

IN 1959, his report for 1958 pointed out that arrests of persons under 18 for serious crimes had risen 8.1 per cent over the previous year, whereas arrests of persons over 18 had gone up only 1.8 per cent.

Of the seven most serious crimes — murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny over $50 and auto theft, the largest increase had been in forcible rape — 13 per cent.

The picture Mr. Hoover sees never can be bright; the nature of FBI work makes gloom a certainty. Added to the basic gloom is the special cloud of despair that can be counted on year by year to hang over whichever dark statistic is chosen for special attention.

This year it is an increase in bank robbing and thieving in 1961. However predictable crime is, and it is nearly as predictable as the accident rate, there always will be these dramatic variations within the overall predictability.

WHAT IS necessary in both cases is a way to relate the absolute statistic to the relative statistic.

Is crime increasing faster than it could have been expected to increase?

Is the FBI failing because of the increase?

Does Mr. Hoover think of himself and his remarkable agency disparagingly because crime statistics always grow and never decline?

If pressed, wouldn't he agree with the rest of us, who think the FBI is one of the most successful of all federal agencies despite the fact it gets busier and bigger year by year as the nation grows in all ways, including the bad ones?

Years Of Service

During that time, he has served not only this newspaper capably and conscientiously, but the community as well. Vic has been a moving force behind many civic enterprises over the years and can look back with satisfaction on his varied endeavors.

If anyone deserves the title of "Mr. Review", it is Vic Hughes. It will feel strange not to have him directing the paper's business activities from his busy office.

Assuming the position of business manager and publisher will be George A. Shaw, who has been associated with The Review in an advertising capacity since 1935. Over the years, he, too, has been extremely active in community affairs and always has been an energetic booster of East Liverpool.

Vic will be missed, but it is reassuring to know that a man of Mr. Shaw's ability is moving into his place.

Eventually, No Country Mice

A professor at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Igho Hart Kornblueh, has made one of those reports everybody will talk about for a few days.

Too much indoor life in cities and built-up suburbs is causing a new set of health problems, he declares; humans are not adapted to "greenhouse existence".

The science of biometereology, some of whose practitioners were in Dr. Kornblueh's audience, has its work cut out for it. As medical director of the department of physical medicine at the University of Pennsylvania's graduate hospital, Dr. Kornblueh decries what he sees as the "wearisome monotony of an immured existence within the confines of the residence and the place of employment . . . a life-long, sheltered vegetation punctuated only by short periods of vacation."

The word for what happens is "urbaphrenia," resulting in physical, psychological and social disorders.

This kind of thinking has the same effect as electro-shock treatment on the human mind. After the first impact, a great many people are going to see more clearly than they ever saw before that Dr. Kornblueh is perfectly right or perfectly wrong—and that isn't the way it is at all.

He has forgotten about the town mouse and the country mouse. The moral of their caper in exchanging environments was that every mouse should settle down in the environment that best suits him.

There are gregarious souls who belong in cities, who thrive on congestion, noise and the proximity of their own kind. They would be wretched in the country; they would suffer from "ruraphrenia."

The trick today, as always, is to put the mice where they belong. Right there, though, is where the plot thickens, because if the United States keeps growing there won't be any country left and what happens then to the country mice is something for biometerorologists to start worrying about 24 hours a day, beginning now.

Markers Needed

Quite often deliverymen will stop passers-by and inquire for such and such an alley. And quite often they fail to get an answer, the passersby not knowing.

Out-of-town truckers suffer the most from the lack of markers, but even many local residents are at a loss when looking for West Church lane, Drury lane or some of the other side thoroughfares which are important links with the major streets.

'Little Brother' Always Watching

There is deep public concern over the apparent ability of James R. Hoffa to emerge unscathed and unmarked from every encounter with the U.S. Department of Justice.

People are talking about it. They are wondering if the leader of the powerful Teamsters Union has cornered so much power he looms larger than the federal government. They are speculating about the man's further growth of power if he moves into the places that he has been eyeing — the telephone business, for example.

But there is one thing about the Hoffa saga that must not be forgotten during the recital of the Teamster leader's personal success in staying beyond the reach of the U.S. Department of Justice.

It is the fact Robert Kennedy, head of the department — the "little brother" Mr. Hoffa publicly despises and reviles — is watching the man he has pledged himself to annoy.

These are not the good old days when a Teamster leader like James Beck could run the union without fear of even a second guess. These are days when 14 grand juries are currently looking into the handling of Teamster pension money, when more than 40 of Mr. Hoffa's associates have been indicted during the last year and 8 have been convicted on the charges brought against them.

These are days when the nation's most powerful union and the powerful men who have built their careers on it are never allowed to forget that they are on the defensive; that one major error in their behavior could bring the whole structure tumbling down.

It is relatively unimportant that Robert Kennedy's efforts to find James R. Hoffa's Achilles Heel have been fruitless. Never was the Teamsters Union under such unrelenting scrutiny, which is a break in the favor of its hundreds of thousands of members.

If we get the kind of Republican support that we got at the beginning of last year in the rules fight, then we can put some of these important programs through. So I think we have to wait until they come back before we can make a judgment and we may be in about the position we were in the last two years."

In his Dec. 17 conversation on television with three radio-TV newsmen on the major networks, the President again was asked to measure the chances for significant success domestically in the Congress just ahead. He replied:

"Well, I think we will be about in the same position as the last two years. As I say, what we have that is controversial will be very closely contested."

MR. KENNEDY was then asked if the complexion of the House hadn't changed a little bit by the shifts. The transcript shows this answer:

"I would say slightly against us more than it was. We are not in quite as good shape as we were for the last two years, but we are about where we were the last two years, which means that every vote will be three or four votes either way, winning or losing."

The outstanding fact, of course, is that, despite all the headlines which appeared right after the elections about the big Democratic victory, the result was about a standoff between the two parties. While it is true that the Democrats called it a victory because it wasn't as big a decline for them as in other years, and while it is also true that the Republicans had high hopes of increasing substantially their strength in Congress, the significent point was the impact of the President's own appeal. Despite the most intensive campaign effort prior to a congressional election ever made by an American president in midterm, the voters failed to heed his request for an increased majority.

So Mr. Kennedy is today confronted with a real dilemma. He says he wants the kind of Republican support in Congress that he had at the beginning of last year, but he is not sure whether as many Republicans will line up with him as in the past.

Republican members already are saying Mr. Kennedy was not grateful to them and went into their districts calling for their defeat.

THE CHANCES are the conservative coalition of Republicans and Democrats will be stronger against the President next year than it was before. Also, some Democrats from the South who occasionally supported the President's program may feel the pressure of Southern bitterness against the administration, especially as the Republican organizations now are building up in the South. The outlook for the administration program is therefore affected by all these uncertainties.

Unorganized Labor?

By Raymond Moley

In the last few years, and especially since the coming of the Kennedy administration, the major role of the secretary of labor has been in relations between management and organized labor. But only one-third of the non-agricultural working force and one-quarter of the total labor force are organized in unions.

The preoccupation and sympathies of the labor secretary really mean that he is secretary of organized labor. Who, then, is concerned with the great majority of wage earners?

One official of a large corporation has suggested that perhaps there should be a new cabinet member — a secretary of unorganized labor.

THIS BRINGS UP the old question about the role that certain cabinet members should play. Until the time when the secretary of agriculture appeared in the Cabinet in 1889, the various members thereof were concerned with functions of government. They were in no sense representing large specific interests in the population. But a certain representative character has been imparted to the later additions of commerce, labor, and health, education and welfare.

Just how that representative character should be exercised is not clear. Should these later additions to the cabinet be considered as spokesmen in the administration in behalf of the interests involved? Or should they speak to and make contacts with those private interests in behalf of the administration of which they are a part?

Perhaps the answer to these questions is that they are acting in both capacities. But the line of demarkation has never been clear.

They are also the executive heads of large administrative departments with tens of thousands of employes. But that is incidental to their activities. For as one former department head has said, his real authority over the employes in his department was negative.

He was allowed fewer than a hundred, out of tens of thousands of his nominal employes, whom he could hire and fire on his own responsibility. The rest had tenure under civil service.

THE 10 CABINET officers are really counsellors to be used by the President in determining over-all national policy. They are spokesmen before the public for the President. They are dealing with vast matters which reach far beyond their departments or, in the case of the four I have mentioned, the private interests involved.

In these larger aspects of the responsibilities of the secretary of labor, the business community is convinced that the sympathies and influence of the three most recent incumbents of the office, whenever possible on the side of organized labor.

In disputes on the West Coast, the administration acting through the secretary of labor has beeen on the side of the unions that are seeking union shops in the big defense plants.

In the California cases the fact-finding board was headed by an individual who was shown by his previous writings to be a partisan of the union shop in industry.

MY CONTENTIONS here would be answered by the assertion that in the Labor Department itself the majority of the bureaus are concerned with wage-earners generally. But these bureaucratic services are incidental to the power and influence of the secretary himself.

The unorganized majority is politically impotent. It is therefore without power to demand adequate recognition by political administrations.

The unions, most of whom are having hard going these days in maintaining their membership, have political potency. Therefore, they have the major share of the government's attention.

Donovan Claims Responsibility In Prisoner Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)— Attorney James B. Donovan says that he alone, and not Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was responsible for the operaton that brought 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners to the United States.

In a telephone interview Thursday with the Washington Star, Donovan implied that he could have finished the job himself without help from Kennedy at all if it had not been for the Cuban missile crisis in October.

Donovan, a New York lawyer and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Senate in the Nov. 6 election in New York is counsel for the Cuban Families Committee which negotiated the prisoner exchange for $53 million worth of drugs, food and equipment.

Contacted at a cottage at Lake Placid, N.Y., where he is resting after long negotiations with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, Donovan told the Star that he has "enormous respect for the attorney general, but it is absolutely and unqualifiedly so that the policy and negotiations were entrusted to me."

Government sources had reported previously that Kennedy had directed a team of government officials who helped manage the massive operatoin.

Public Clamor–'Let Mona Lisa Out!'–Has Failed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public clamor—"let Mona Lisa out!"—failed today to release the Leonardo Da Vinci masterpiece from her art gallery prison.

U.S. and French officials insisted the young Florentine matron with the mysterious smile must wait until Jan. 8 to make her American debut.

The 450-year-old portrait came here Dec. 19, on leave from the Paris Louvre, and was immediately locked up in an underground vault of the National Gallery of Art.

Word was passed that the French government, with its love for ceremoney, wanted to delay her unveiling until members of the new Congress were in town. So on Jan. 8 President Kennedy with all the required protocol, will introduce her to legislators, diplomats and other notables. The public showing will open the next day and continue for three weeks.

Supreme Court Affirms Rates Of Dayton Concern

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court affirmed today an increase in the rates allowed Dayton Power & Light Co. above rates set in two city ordinances.

The ordinances adopted July 7, 1958, provided for a 3.6 per cent rate of return and the company appealed to the Public Utilities Commission.

The commission found the ordinance rate insufficient and approved an increase to 5.4 per cent.

In another utility case, among decisions announced in a yearend cleanup of its docket, the Supreme Court ordered an increase in rates for Citizens Telephone Co. Rock Creek, Ashtabula County.

The company made improvements costing $100,000 after utilities commission approval of a 20-year mortgage committing the firm to annual payments of $15,000 on the debt and preferred dividends.

But an application for rate increases in 1960 to meet the $15,000 payments, the commission allowed only enough to produce income of $13,971 annually. On appeal, the Supreme Court reversed the commission and ordered a rate increase sufficient to meet full annual payments.

Germany Opens Legal Probe On Thalidomide

AACHEN, Germany (AP) — A huge legal investigation is going on here in connection with thalidomide, the drug which thousands of parents associate with the birth of deformed children.

In the town of Stolberg, just outside Aachen, thalidomide was developed by the pharmaceutical firm Chemie Gruenenthal.

The aim is to find whether there is positive evidence of a link between thalidomide and malformations in babies born to mothers who took the drug.

Many doctors believe there is, and the drug was taken off the market more than a year ago when it first came under suspicion.

The manufacturer insists final proof is lacking. Its scientists argue that the rate of deformities was not always identical with the sales curve of thalidomide. They say reports from the Philippines and Hungary show that malformations increased even where no thalidomide was marketed.

The official probe has been running since late 1961.

Prosecutor H. Havertz, in charge, has made no direct comment on findings so far. But he said recently they indicated that the spread of malformations had a cause and could have been prevented.

Havertz has received more than 500 criminal complaints against the manufacturers. A firm cannot be held criminally responsible here. Havertz has to determine whether charges of criminal negligence should be filed against any individuals at Gruenenthal.

There are still no definite statistics on the number of deformed babies born to mothers who took thalidomide. Estimates for West Germany vary between 2,000 and 6,000. Parents of deformed children need not register such cases.

Thalidomide was developed in 1954 and sold in Germany under the trade name Contergan. It was swallowed daily by thousands of sleep-seeking Germans. Animal tests had established that even the heaviest dose could not be fatal, so doctors favored Contergan in prescriptions.

In the town of Stolberg, just outside Aachen, thalidomide was developed by the pharmaceutical firm Chemie Gruenenthal.

The aim is to find whether there is positive evidence of a link between thalidomide and malformations in babies born to mothers who took the drug.

Many doctors believe there is, and the drug was taken off the market more than a year ago when it first came under suspicion.

The manufacturer insists final proof is lacking. Its scientists argue that the rate of deformities was not always identical with the sales curve of thalidomide. They say reports from the Philippines and Hungary show that malformations increased even where no thalidomide was marketed.

The official probe has been running since late 1961.

Prosecutor H. Havertz, in charge, has made no direct comment on findings so far. But he said recently they indicated that the spread of malformations had a cause and could have been prevented.

Havertz has received more than 500 criminal complaints against the manufacturers. A firm cannot be held criminally responsible here. Havertz has to determine whether charges of criminal negligence should be filed against any individuals at Gruenenthal.

There are still no definite statistics on the number of deformed babies born to mothers who took thalidomide. Estimates for West Germany vary between 2,000 and 6,000. Parents of deformed children need not register such cases.

Thalidomide was developed in 1954 and sold in Germany under the trade name Contergan. It was swallowed daily by thousands of sleep-seeking Germans. Animal tests had established that even the heaviest dose could not be fatal, so doctors favored Contergan in prescriptions.

Winter and Your Septic Tank

Unlike humans, who heat their homes in winter, or even animals, who have hairy bodies to keep them warm, the poor little bacteria in septic tanks and waste disposal systems have no protection against those harsh winter months ahead.

Since a temperature drop of only a few degrees will kill billions of these hard working microbes, the reduced bacterial population becomes incapable of disposing of the waste which enters such systems, resulting in clogged and unsanitary conditions.

These bacteria, mainly the colontype, are produced in the human body at a temperature of 98.6° F., and lose their ability to produce their own enzymes for solids liquification as the temperature drops, literally starving to death. Quoting from SEWERAGE and SEWAGE TREATMENT: (1)

"Temperature of sludge digestion — the most practical optimum temperature of sludge digestion, known as the Mesophilic Range, is between 80°F. and 90°F., preferably about 85°F. As the temperature drops, bacterial action diminishes almost in proportion until at about 50°F. It practically ceases."

Naturally, since the temperatures in unheated sewage systems average between 50°F. and 60°F. in winter, it may readily be seen that trouble can be expected.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

Enzymes are not as susceptible to low temperatures as are bacteria, and it has been proven that their liquifying ability continues a slow as 35°F. Therefore, SEA-CAL takes over the reduction of the solids, producing food in AVAILABLE form for the reduced bacteria population, enabling them to continue their valuable work, and to produce clear effluents for transmission to drainfields and cesspools. Since SEA-CAL also contains strains of virile bacteria by the million per gram, fresh populations are added each time a treatment is made.

For only a few pennies per treatment, for the average home system, SEA-CAL insures year-round protection from costly service problems, and unsanitary conditions.

USE SEA-CAL ENZYMES REGULARLY ALL YEAR, INCREASING DOSES IN WINTER.

The family went to the home of Reed's father, Clyde Reed, near the Locust Hill Cemetery.

The ruins still were smouldering late this morning. Just a few days ago, 75 bushels of coal were placed in the basement.

The Chester fire department was called at 2:17 a. m. by Mrs. McCoy, inquiring about who to contact concerning the electrical wiring. A repairman came out later to cut wires.

The explosion blew out a window. The fire is believed to have started in the livingroom of the house, made of concrete block and wood.

Furnace Explodes In Hookstown Home

Hookstown volunteer firemen were called Thursday about 11 p. m. when a coal - fired steam furnace exploded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Dick) Chambers of Route 168 near Hookstown.

The force of the explosion moved a deep freezer six inches. The fire, confined to the basement, was extinguished quickly by firemen. The furnace was demolished. The cellar windows were blown out and clothes hanging on a line were burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers and their three children were upstairs at the time. None was hurt. Their home is located on Route 168 at the top of Mill Creek Hill, about a mile south of Laughlins Corners. There was some smoke damage. The family has insurance. The amount of damage was not determined.

The home was the scene of another fire about two weeks ago. It was confined to a fruit cellar.

$25,000 Loss Set In Blaze

NORTH LIMA — The unofficial loss was estimated at $25,000 in a fire Thursday night which destroyed the frame building housing the milling machinery at the North Lima Lumber Co.

Firemen from three companies, including Columbiana, battled the flames for three hours before bringing it under control.

They confined the blaze to the building housing the milling equipment and kept it from spreading to nearby buildings.

Paul McMurray, manager, said he believes the fire was caused by an electrical failure in a service entrance or a heater in the center of the plant.

The blaze was discovered by a passing trucker. The plant is located on Route 165 at the south end of the village.

The loss included milling equipment and cabinets. The unofficial loss was estimated by a fireman.

Furnace Explodes In Hookstown Home

Hookstown volunteer firemen were called Thursday about 11 p. m. when a coal - fired steam furnace exploded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Dick) Chambers of Route 168 near Hookstown.

The force of the explosion moved a deep freezer six inches. The fire, confined to the basement, was extinguished quickly by firemen. The furnace was demolished. The cellar windows were blown out and clothes hanging on a line were burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers and their three children were upstairs at the time. None was hurt. Their home is located on Route 168 at the top of Mill Creek Hill, about a mile south of Laughlins Corners. There was some smoke damage. The family has insurance. The amount of damage was not determined.

The home was the scene of another fire about two weeks ago. It was confined to a fruit cellar.

$25,000 Loss Set In Blaze

NORTH LIMA — The unofficial loss was estimated at $25,000 in a fire Thursday night which destroyed the frame building housing the milling machinery at the North Lima Lumber Co.

Firemen from three companies, including Columbiana, battled the flames for three hours before bringing it under control.

They confined the blaze to the building housing the milling equipment and kept it from spreading to nearby buildings.

Paul McMurray, manager, said he believes the fire was caused by an electrical failure in a service entrance or a heater in the center of the plant.

The loss included milling equipment and cabinets. The unofficial loss was estimated by a fireman.

What Is Life Like Under Castro

Money Abundant, Food, Clothes Scarce In Cuba

Money is abundant, but essential foodstuffs and clothing are in short supply. Government vigilance and fear is the lot of those who oppose the regime, but physical violence is rare. And nonconformity can cost a man his job.

These were the views expressed by many of the more than 900 relatives of Cuban prisoners who arrived here Thursday aboard the freighter African Pilot.

"There is money, but food is hard to come by," said Mrs. Norge Portuondo, a teacher of Spanish in a Santiago Teacher's College. "You need government authorization to buy good clothes or luxury items, and it's easier to do without than stand in the long lines."

Mrs. Portuondo, 36, whose husband got permission to leave Cuba one month after their marriage, said that after he was captured in the invasion she tried to resign from her job.

"They wouldn't accept my resignation because there is a shortage of teachers," she said. "Restrictions became worse and worse, but honestly speaking nothing bad happened to me."

Aida Rodriguez Valladares, who arrived with her husband and two children, said, "One is continuously under a severe nervous strain because of the vigilance. It's worse than the food shortages."

The food problem, she said, "was a question of simply eating without the extras we used to enjoy."

An 18-year-old girl, who said she wouldn't give her name because her parents are still in Havana, told of being expelled from high school two years ago "for my attitude against the government. I haven't worked or done anything since. I lived with my parents."

Mrs. Rodriguez Valladares said she kept her children out of school the past two terms to keep them from being brainwashed.

Leal Cruz, who arrived with his wife and child, said—as did many others—that the great majority of the Cuban population is against Castro.

He was asked why there had been no uprising or trouble during the recent Cuban crisis.

Dressing For Office Function

One Of Life's Ordeals

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is dressing up for an office function.

"It's a meeting of the 35-year club," says the boss crisply. "Probably call on you for a few remarks. Black tie, of course."

Of course, black tie.

But what does that mean? It means a dinner jacket and a bow-tie under your second chin.

You try it on and your wife says:

"The South may rise again, but not in that uniform. It won't do, damyankee."

So you go to the merchants who rent tuxes, and come home with one for $12.50-a waiter's special.

So you go to the party feeling tall and black-and-white proud. Wonderful. The feeling of mutuality among others flows through you like the pulse of a favorite artery.

You feel like a king of the hill in the crowd. You are so proud you buy a round of drinks. An old-timer, pausing in the middle of a chorus of "Sweet Adeline," buys a round and says:

"I've been retired for three years, and life is wonderful. How do you stand?" he says.

"Well," you tell him hopefully, "I've only got 12 years, 3 months, 4 days and 27 minutes to go—but the firm is so much fun to work with now that sometimes I forget the exact distance I have left to enjoy."

"Cheer up," says the old-timer comfortingly. "It was my experience with the organization that the first 41 years were the easiest. But the last two years, five months, two weeks, three days and 16 minutes were awfully humdrum. They kinda got on my nerves."

"Yes, sir," you agree, thinking it will be some time until you yourself will reach the 41-year mark, and you feel prematurely tired.

"Do you think any man will ever beat Babe Ruth's record of 714 home runs?

No, sir.

Author Files Suit To Deny Daughter Any Of Fortune

NICE, France (AP) — Author Somerset Maugham has gone into a French court in an effort to deny his daughter any of his fortune when he dies—and to get back $2 million he says he has given her since she was born 47 years ago.

The British author, 88, claimed in a suit filed in Nice that Elizabeth Mary Maugham—now the wife of Lord John Hope—is not legally his daughter because she was conceived while her mother was married to another man.

Lady Hope is the daughter of the late Syrie Bernardo Maugham, a well-known interior decorator whose marriage to the writer ended in 1928. She died in 1955.

Maugham contended in his suit that the daughter was conceived while her mother was still married to Henry Welcome. Welcome divorced his wife, naming Maugham as co-respondent, and she and the writer subsequently married.

The contention that Lady Hope is legally someone else's daughter apparently was made to deny her any share of her father's estate when he dies. Maugham revealed at the same time that last April he adopted Alan Frank Searle, his secretary for 32 years as his son. Searle is 50.

County Judge Pay Hike Set

LISBON — A $1,000-per-year raise for Columbiana County's three County Court judges has been voted by county commissioners.

Beginning Tuesday, the annual salary will be $4,901.68 for Judge J. L. MacDonald, Southwest Area Court, Lisbon; Judge Luther Donbar, Northwest Area Court, Salem, and Judge Herbert E. Arfman, Eastern Area Court, East Palestine.

All are beginning new terms Tuesday — Judge MacDonald for two years and the others for four years.

The judges' basic salary of $3,901 was based on county population as provided by the state code. The law also gives commissioners authority to increase judges' salaries but not during a judge's term of office.

Commissioners Thursday renewed a four-year lease for Eastern Area Court building and purchased an IBM typewriter for Common Pleas Court.

The lease is with Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine for $77.50 per month. The typewriter cost $453 from IBM, Youngstown.

The commissioners' meeting Monday will be the last for Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville, the lone Democrat, whose bid for re-election was defeated in November by James W. Boyd of East Liverpool.

Boyd's first meeting will be next Thursday. The board's annual reorganization meeting will be Monday, Jan. 7.

Jobless Boost Reported In Ohio For November

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report issued today by the Division of Research and Statistics of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said unemployment in Ohio increased seasonally from an estimated 180,000 in October to 203,000 in November.

This, the report said, boosted the rate from 4.6 to 5.2 of the civilian labor force. Total employment of 3,709,000 however, slipped negligibly from October.

The decrease was most pronounced in construction, which pulled nonagricultural wage and salary employment down 0.3 per cent, to 3,129,000 in November. Agricultural employment rose contra-seasonally, however, due to unusually favorable weather conditions, the report said.

Manufacturers employed 1,208,000 workers in November, down slightly from October. Food processing industries, particularly canning, reported sizable layoffs of temporary workers. Higher employment in the durable goods industries resulted from increased orders among manufacturers of communication equipment and motor vehicles.

Pair In Burglary Held To Grand Jury Action

LISBON — Two youths charged with a $20 burglary last Friday night at Witmer's Farm Implement Sales on Alternate Route 14 east of Washingtonville were bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine.

Judge Herbert E. Arfman set bond of $500 each for David W. Thompson, 21, of Rogers R.D. 1, and Donald G. Manis, 19, of Salem.

Manis remains in the County Jail in lieu of bond. Thompson was released Wednesday after making bond.

Cuba Has Ultramodern Housing Development

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A workers' paradise—a tall apartment development where rent is 10 per cent of a man's salary—has been built east of the Cuban capital as a showcase of Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.

Prime Minister Castro is obviously proud of the multimillion-dollar, ultramodern development and says more will be built by his regime.

He showed off the project, known simply as East Havana, to four visiting Americans during a two-hour auto tour of the city last Sunday.

Guests of Castro on the tour were Capt. Alfred Boerum, master of the freighter African Pilot; Leonard Scheele, former surgeon general of the United States; E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., Washington attorney; and this writer.

Boerum's ship had sailed into Havana that day with approximately $11 million worth of food and drugs as down payment toward the release of Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners. Scheele and Prettyman assisted in plans for obtaining and transporting the supplies.

As Castro's chauffeur-driven, heavily armed automobile approached the development, the dictator pointed out that a street circled the area but no roads ran between the houses.

"There is more security for young children this way," Castro said.

East Havana has its own shopping center with a department store, barber shop, beauty parlor, pharmacy and a number of other stores. It also has a secondary school and a large recreation and sports field.

Each unit costs $6,000 to build, Castro said. He told the Americans there was great need for more such units in Cuba.

He called at random on several in the group which had gathered and asked them to tell the Americans whether they liked the project. Unanimously, they said they did.

The project has a population of nearly 15,000, Castro said. He added that applications for residences are so heavy that preference has to be given to those with the largest families.

Weirton Driver Fined $100 At Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — Judson C. McCartney, 35, of Weirton was fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated at a hearing Thursday before City Police Court Judge John D. Herron.

The operator's license of McCartney was also revoked six months. He was cited Wednesday by Police Chief William Webster.

At another hearing Thursday, Squire Herron said Charles Bane and Sylvia Ambler were found innocent of a charge of illegal cohabitation. The complaint was brought by her ex-husband, Richard Ambler of Newell.

The case was transferred from the court of Squire John Bryan after the defendants filed affidavits of prejudice. The complaint was made Dec. 17.

Holiday Dance Set For Salineville School

SALINEVILLE — Sponsored by the Senior Class, a holiday dance will be held Saturday night from 9 to midnight at Salineville High School.

The dance is open to students and alumni. The blue and white decorations will follow the theme, "Winter Wonderland." In the past, the seniors sponsored a dance at Christmas time. However, the class voted to hold the event closer to New Year's because of many other activities at Christmas.

Proceeds will be used toward the annual class trip to Washington. Jane Russell, a student, is in charge of the dance, with Miss Darlene Balmos, teacher, as advisor.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt had the longest administration — 12 years, one month and eight days. William Henry Harrison had the shortest term, dying one month after his inauguration.

County Judge Pay Hike Set

LISBON — A $1,000-per-year raise for Columbiana County's three County Court judges has been voted by county commissioners.

Author Files Suit To Deny Daughter Any Of Fortune

NICE, France (AP) — Author Somerset Maugham has gone into a French court in an effort to deny his daughter any of his fortune when he dies—and to get back $2 million he says he has given her since she was born 47 years ago.

The British author, 88, claimed in a suit filed in Nice that Elizabeth Mary Maugham—now the wife of Lord John Hope—is not legally his daughter because she was conceived while her mother was married to another man.

Lady Hope is the daughter of the late Syrie Bernardo Maugham, a well-known interior decorator whose marriage to the writer ended in 1928. She died in 1955.

Maugham contended in his suit that the daughter was conceived while her mother was still married to Henry Welcome. Welcome divorced his wife, naming Maugham as co-respondent, and she and the writer subsequently married.

The contention that Lady Hope is legally someone else's daughter apparently was made to deny her any share of her father's estate when he dies. Maugham revealed at the same time that last April he adopted Alan Frank Searle, his secretary for 32 years as his son. Searle is 50.

Traditionally, the bows indicate the ladies now possess the maturity and social graces to make good wives, and the race is on to win the best man.

California Sets Celebration As Most-Populated

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California, or some of its chambers of commerce, whooped it up today to celebrate the state's disputed claim to the biggest population in the nation.

New York, still No. 1 in the 1960 census, has challenged California's claim. Each state had an estimated population of 17.4 million this month.

California residents were urged by state officials and some chambers of commerce to give a four-day "California First" celebration a rousing sendoff with bells, cannons, auto horns and factory whistles.

Dissenters noted that bigness had its problems, such as smog, congested freeways, crowded schools and high taxes.

Los Angeles, which probably has more to toot about than any other area, planned no special observance.

Some communities have already observed the state's emergence and others were celebrating today.

Miss Karen Wright Weds Ens. Richard Neil Atkinson

Miss Karen Sue Wright wore a bouffant butterfly veil of imported silk illusion when she became the bride of Ens. Richard Neil Atkinson the afternoon of Dec. 16 at 4:30 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wright, 412 Blakely St., and her husband is the son of Mrs. Wilma Atkinson of Cleveland, and the late Arthur Atkinson.

John N. Mostoller, minister, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of white mums, holly, cibotium ferns and palms. Seven - branch candelabra completed the setting. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Ernest Lowe gave a half hour of traditional organ music. Her husband sang "Because," "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Wedding Benediction."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white silk - faced peau de soie, fashioned with a fitted bodice and long, pointed sleeves. Garlands of Alencon lace outlined the scoop neckline and were scattered over the bell - shaped skirt. Small bow knots accented the garlands and a larger bow, at the waist in back, tied the pleats which gave fullness to the chapel train.

Her veil was attached to a doll-size pillbox hat of re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and rosebuds, tied with satin streamers. She observed the traditions and wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Alice Jane Neiser was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lynne Atkinson, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Joyce Montgomery of Steubenville and Miss Molly Cohen. They wore street-length dresses of ruby red chromespun brocade designed with scoop necklines, long sleeves and bell - shaped skirts accented with wrapped side drapes.

Small bows featured the belts in the back. Theater veils highlighted their tiny pillbox hats of matching brocade. They carried cascade bouquets of white Fuji mums and pompons interspersed with holly. Their only jewelry were spinel stones on silver chains, gifts of the bride.

Wendy Wright and Kent Wright of Newport, R. I., niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. She wore a white nylon dress fashioned with a Bertha collar, edged in lace, and a taffeta sash. She carried a basket of mums and holly.

Bruce L. Smith of Maumee was best man. Ushers were C. Joe Morgan of Elyria, Richard G. Wright of Newport, brother of the bride, and David W. Bracy of Pandora, Ohio.

Aides were Mrs. Richard G. Wright, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Paul E. Taylor and Mrs. William K. Taylor, cousins of the bride; Mrs. C. Joe Morgan of Columbus, Mrs. Earl Neiser, Mrs. Floyd Caputo and Mrs. Alton Weber. Mrs. Glenn Hall presided at the guest register.

MRS. R. N. ATKINSON
Bride Of Nuptials Dec. 16.

Other out-of-town guests were from Canton, Youngstown, Lima and Davis, W. Va.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of East Liverpool High School and will be graduated in March from Ohio State University with a degree in speech and hearing therapy. She is a member of the Alpha Eta, speech and hearing honorary.

Her husband was graduated from Columbia High School in 1958 and from Ohio State on Dec. 14, when he received his Navy commission. He holds a degree in genetics and was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Lambda honorary fraternity and the Anchor and Chain Navy honorary.

The bride will continue her studies at Ohio State until her graduation and will join her husband at Pensacola, Fla., where the newlyweds will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Weber of Blakely St. entertained for the rehearsal dinner following which a party was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neiser of Wedgewood Ave. were host and hostess for the Sunday noon buffet.

Toronto Judge's Retirement Ends 38-Year Career

Jefferson County Judge Helen Miller Huntsman of Toronto will conclude 38½ years of public service at midnight Monday to start her retirement.

She is the only woman ever to serve as a county court judge in Jefferson County and also the only non-attorney now in such a position.

Mrs. Huntsman was first elected to a judgeship in 1957 when the County Court system was established throughout Ohio. She served her first term in 1958 and was re-elected to a four-year term which expires at midnight Dec. 31.

Mrs. Huntsman did not seek re-election in November.

She started her public career in 1924, as an employe in the office of O. Y. Crawford, justice of the peace. She served as assistant to Wilbur Long and George Freeman. Upon Freeman's death, she was named to fill his unexpired term.

Her public service includes 27 years as a justice of the peace, six years as a squire, and five years as a county court judge.

An extended vacation in Florida with her husband, John F. Huntsman, is first on the list in her retirement. Her husband also plans to retire in the near future.

Traditionally, the bows indicate the ladies now possess the maturity and social graces to make good wives, and the race is on to win the best man.

California Sets Celebration As Most-Populated

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California, or some of its chambers of commerce, whooped it up today to celebrate the state's disputed claim to the biggest population in the nation.

New York, still No. 1 in the 1960 census, has challenged California's claim. Each state had an estimated population of 17.4 million this month.

California residents were urged by state officials and some chambers of commerce to give a four-day "California First" celebration a rousing sendoff with bells, cannons, auto horns and factory whistles.

Dissenters noted that bigness had its problems, such as smog, congested freeways, crowded schools and high taxes.

Los Angeles, which probably has more to toot about than any other area, planned no special observance.

Some communities have already observed the state's emergence and others were celebrating today.

Miss Karen Wright Weds Ens. Richard Neil Atkinson

Miss Karen Sue Wright wore a bouffant butterfly veil of imported silk illusion when she became the bride of Ens. Richard Neil Atkinson the afternoon of Dec. 16 at 4:30 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wright, 412 Blakely St., and her husband is the son of Mrs. Wilma Atkinson of Cleveland, and the late Arthur Atkinson.

John N. Mostoller, minister, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of white mums, holly, cibotium ferns and palms. Seven - branch candelabra completed the setting. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Ernest Lowe gave a half hour of traditional organ music. Her husband sang "Because," "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Wedding Benediction."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white silk - faced peau de soie, fashioned with a fitted bodice and long, pointed sleeves. Garlands of Alencon lace outlined the scoop neckline and were scattered over the bell - shaped skirt. Small bow knots accented the garlands and a larger bow, at the waist in back, tied the pleats which gave fullness to the chapel train.

Her veil was attached to a doll-size pillbox hat of re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and rosebuds, tied with satin streamers. She observed the traditions and wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Alice Jane Neiser was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lynne Atkinson, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Joyce Montgomery of Steubenville and Miss Molly Cohen. They wore street-length dresses of ruby red chromespun brocade designed with scoop necklines, long sleeves and bell - shaped skirts accented with wrapped side drapes.

Small bows featured the belts in the back. Theater veils highlighted their tiny pillbox hats of matching brocade. They carried cascade bouquets of white Fuji mums and pompons interspersed with holly. Their only jewelry were spinel stones on silver chains, gifts of the bride.

Wendy Wright and Kent Wright of Newport, R. I., niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. She wore a white nylon dress fashioned with a Bertha collar, edged in lace, and a taffeta sash. She carried a basket of mums and holly.

Bruce L. Smith of Maumee was best man. Ushers were C. Joe Morgan of Elyria, Richard G. Wright of Newport, brother of the bride, and David W. Bracy of Pandora, Ohio.

Aides were Mrs. Richard G. Wright, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Paul E. Taylor and Mrs. William K. Taylor, cousins of the bride; Mrs. C. Joe Morgan of Columbus, Mrs. Earl Neiser, Mrs. Floyd Caputo and Mrs. Alton Weber. Mrs. Glenn Hall presided at the guest register.

Other out-of-town guests were from Canton, Youngstown, Lima and Davis, W. Va.

Her husband was graduated from Columbia High School in 1958 and from Ohio State on Dec. 14, when he received his Navy commission. He holds a degree in genetics and was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Lambda honorary fraternity and the Anchor and Chain Navy honorary.

The bride will continue her studies at Ohio State until her graduation and will join her husband at Pensacola, Fla., where the newlyweds will reside.

Icy Pavement Blamed After Autos Collide

Icy pavement was blamed for a crash that damaged two Mahoning County cars Thursday at 3:02 p. m. on Park Blvd. at Elysian Way, police reported. It was one of three minor crashes overnight in which no one was hurt.

The collision involved a 1963 two-door sedan driven by John Probst Jr. of Poland and a 1962 model two-door operated by James Dunn of Youngstown, officers said.

Probst was turning off Park Blvd. onto Elysian Way, where Dunn was halted, police reported. Probst's auto skidded on ice and hit the left front of Dunn's car, officers reported. The left front of Probst's car also was damaged. He was driving an auto owned by Avis Rental Agency of Youngstown, officers said.

Vision blocked by parked cars was blamed for another two-car mishap at Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave. at 11:34 a. m. Thursday.

The crash involved a 1952 two-door sedan driven by Patrick G. Lynch, 912 Montgomery Ave., and a 1960 two-door operated by Raymond Everson, 47, of 637 Youngs Alley, police said.

Everson said his view was blocked by parked cars as he pulled out of a market's parking lot and he did not see the oncoming car driven by Lynch.

Los Angeles Paper Starts New System Of Type Setting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Times says it has started setting newspaper type automatically with a high-speed computer system which will save substantial amounts of money, manpower and time.

Centered around a Radio Corp. of America computer, the system starts at the reporter's typewriter. Reporters write their stories on electric typewriters equipped with tape punch units. After the stories are edited, typists punch tape covering corrections and changes.

The computer produces a finished tape which incorporates the editing and spaces words so they fill out lines evenly. Using a logic system, the computer also hyphenates words as needed at the ends of lines.

The tape is fed into linecasting machines that set type.

Otis Booth, Times operations director, developed the process. He calls it the first successful high-speed use of a computer in setting newspaper type.

Booth said the system, which employes an RCA 301 computer, could represent a time saving of at least 40 per cent in setting news copy.

The computer will accept either typewritten news or advertising copy and corrections. It produces tape at the rate of 3,000 words per minute.

For several years, newspapers have used tape to operate typesetting machines, but a skilled operator has been needed to punch the tape. The new system makes the writer the source of tape.

Army May Be Denied Part Of Guard And Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chiefly to save money, the Army reportedly may be denied authority to put into full effect a key part of a plan intended to make National Guard and Reserve forces more combat ready.

The Army has proposed sending as many as 100,000 reservists to summer training for two weeks with high-priority Guard and Reserve units.

Defense Department officials were understood to have moved to trim this number to about 55,000.

Questions other than money are involved, including whether a reorganization of the Guard will be far enough along by summer to permit utilization of the full 100,000.

Difficulties developed then with the assignment of individual reservists to fill gaps in understrength Guard and Reserve units.

It was found that many of these "fillers" lacked necessary military skills. They had to be trained to handle jobs to which they were assigned and this held back the combat readiness of some of the outfits.

Icy Pavement Blamed After Autos Collide

Icy pavement was blamed for a crash that damaged two Mahoning County cars Thursday at 3:02 p. m. on Park Blvd. at Elysian Way, police reported. It was one of three minor crashes overnight in which no one was hurt.

The collision involved a 1963 two-door sedan driven by John Probst Jr. of Poland and a 1962 model two-door operated by James Dunn of Youngstown, officers said.

Probst was turning off Park Blvd. onto Elysian Way, where Dunn was halted, police reported. Probst's auto skidded on ice and hit the left front of Dunn's car, officers reported. The left front of Probst's car also was damaged. He was driving an auto owned by Avis Rental Agency of Youngstown, officers said.

Vision blocked by parked cars was blamed for another two-car mishap at Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave. at 11:34 a. m. Thursday.

The crash involved a 1952 two-door sedan driven by Patrick G. Lynch, 912 Montgomery Ave., and a 1960 two-door operated by Raymond Everson, 47, of 637 Youngs Alley, police said.

Everson said his view was blocked by parked cars as he pulled out of a market's parking lot and he did not see the oncoming car driven by Lynch.

A hit-skip crash about 9 p. m. Thursday damaged an auto parked on the Horn Switch at Dresden Ave., the owner told police.

The President will address Cubans in the Orange Bowl ceremonies in which the ex-prisoners will give Kennedy their invasion flag.

The revolutionary council, headed by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, whose son returned with the prisoner group, declared:

"This legion of patriots must be the vanguard of a great Pan American crusade against Communist forces that make Cuba bloody and project shadows of slavery over the entire hemisphere."

The statement added: "The presence in exile of Brigade 2506 will be a stimulus to continue the fight."

The council urged all exiles of military age to enlist in the U.S. armed forces. Some 2,000 already have done so.

The refugees aboard the African Pilot on its return from Havana, where it took a ransom down payment of $11 million in supplies, were the first large number reaching Florida since airline service from Havana was halted with the Cuban crisis. They were taken in 30 buses to a large Miami auditorium to meet their prisoner relatives.

Midland Mill Due Projects

There will be about $500,000 increased depreciation this year as a result of the new Internal Revenue Service guidlines. The investment credit of 7 per cent provided in the Revenue Act of 1962 will not show up in the profit and loss statement, but will mean a savings in taxes of somewhere in the neighborhood of $250,000 to Crucible.

Crucible's coming ability to increase earnings on an unchanged sales volume does not reflect an easing of the cost-price squeeze so prominent in the steel business. Rather, it is due to Crucible capitalizing on improved productive facilities and closer management control, the group was told.

Hunter made it clear he is hardly counting on increased prices to assist in the forecast.

M. J. Day, vice president — commercial, said the short - term outlook for Crucible's products was especially good, with a substantial volume of business expected in the first quarter of 1963. This will not be as great as was the case in the first quarter of 1962, he said, when customers were buying as a strike hedge.

He added there is no evidence of hedge buying against a 1963 strike threat as yet. He said buyers are waiting for evidence of need for it. He said this may not occur until around May 1.

Hunter commented in connection with the new depreciation guidelines and the investment credit, combined with improved earnings, that "the more money that becomes available, the greater the ability to plough back funds into the property."

In recent years Crucible, following long-range plans for improvement, has taken many steps to improve its productive facilities.

"The new continuous hot strip mill completed at Midland Works last year has enabled us to improve our quality through better control of dimensions and more uniform surface," he said. "With a larger and more versatile primary rolling capacity, we can now produce products we were not able to make before."

Other new facilities were cited as contributing to Crucible's progress. The Dortmund-Horder vacuum treating unit at Midland completed in 1960, has improved quality of open hearth and electric steels.

The bright anneal line was the first capable of handling stainless strip 48 inches wide. The process results in stainless with highly reflective finish and shows significant improvement in corrosion resistance properties.

Among other improvements are new annealing and pickling lines; facilities to increase capacity for vaccuum melted steels; electrification of the merchant and bloom-ing mills; and improvements in raw material processing.

Last summer Crucible began construction of a new process research laboratory strengthening its technology department. The company views it as an important contribution to the reduction of costs and to the improvement of quality and service to our customers.

Crucible's investments in the past dozen years amount to more than $150 million dollars or about two-thirds of its total plant investment.

Briefs Due Today In Hancock Case

Final briefs were due in the hands of Circuit Judge Ralph E. Pryor at noon today in the court action by two Hancock County commissioners to force another commissioner to authorize payment of two cruisers purchased for the sheriff's office.

Commissioners Lyle F. Virden and James Finley are seeking a writ of mandamus that would compel William C. Graham of Chester to authorize payment to Hilltop Motor Sales Co. of Weirton for two Studebaker Lark cruisers.

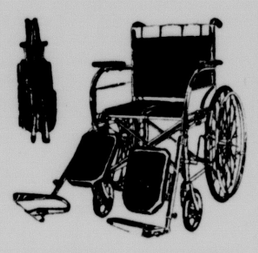

The bids were submitted to county commissioners Sept. 4 and were accepted by Finley and Virden. Graham has blocked payment by refusing to sign checks in invoking his power as president of the County Court.

Attorneys for the three commissioners were to file final briefs at noon today in Circuit Court chambers in New Cumberland.

Judge Pryor set aside his lunch hour to hear the case because of numberous divorce cases and civil actions on the calendar. It is not known when the jurist will announce a decision.

County commissioners are scheduled to meet Wednesday morning at 10 in the Courthouse.

The President will address Cubans in the Orange Bowl ceremonies in which the ex-prisoners will give Kennedy their invasion flag.

The revolutionary council, headed by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, whose son returned with the prisoner group, declared:

"This legion of patriots must be the vanguard of a great Pan American crusade against Communist forces that make Cuba bloody and project shadows of slavery over the entire hemisphere."

The statement added: "The presence in exile of Brigade 2506 will be a stimulus to continue the fight."

The council urged all exiles of military age to enlist in the U.S. armed forces. Some 2,000 already have done so.

The refugees aboard the African Pilot on its return from Havana, where it took a ransom down payment of $11 million in supplies, were the first large number reaching Florida since airline service from Havana was halted with the Cuban crisis. They were taken in 30 buses to a large Miami auditorium to meet their prisoner relatives.

Holiday

Store in Chester will be closed Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Ohio State Employment Service office will be closed Monday and Tuesday with Monday claimants reporting on Wednesday and Thursday claimants coming in Thursday.

A regular holiday schedule will be maintained at the East Liverpool and Wellsville Post Offices with no deliveries or window service but mails will be received and dispatched as usual.

Unlike Christmas Eve, Monday will not be a holiday for federal employes with the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service maintaining normal hours.

Carnegie Public Library will close at 6 p. m. Monday.

The American Vitrified Products Co. plant will suspend operations from today until Wednesday morning, following the same schedule that was in effect for Christmas.

The No. 4 plant and No. 1 shop at the Globe Brick Co. will be working on the holiday but the office will be closed.

Wellsville City Hall offices will be closed for the holiday, with the exception of the police and fire departments.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the refuse department will not make any collections on New Year's Day. It will be one day behind the regular schedule, beginning Wednesday, but will catch up on Saturday.

Banks and other financial institutions will not be open Tuesday as it is a legal holiday.

Stacey said car dealers and lawyers advised him they will be working Monday. Both sections of his office were closed last Monday for the Christmas holiday.

County Recorder Richard G. Brian said his Courthouse office also will be open Monday from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., operating with about 50 per cent of the normal staff. One principal reason the office will function will be to handle any documents that should be recorded before the end of the year, Brian said.

The Beaver County Courthouse at Beaver also will be closed only Tuesday.

Operations will cease Monday midnight at the Midland Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. and resume Tuesday midnight, C. R. Hodgson, plant manager, announced.

Midland Mill Due Projects

than $6 million, compared with $4,593,000 reported for the first nine months this year.

There will be about $500,000 increased depreciation this year as a result of the new Internal Revenue Service guidlines. The investment credit of 7 per cent provided in the Revenue Act of 1962 will not show up in the profit and loss statement, but will mean a savings in taxes of somewhere in the neighborhood of $250,000 to Crucible.

Crucible's coming ability to increase earnings on an unchanged sales volume does not reflect an easing of the cost-price squeeze so prominent in the steel business. Rather, it is due to Crucible capitalizing on improved productive facilities and closer management control, the group was told.

Hunter made it clear he is hardly counting on increased prices to assist in the forecast.

M. J. Day, vice president — commercial, said the short - term outlook for Crucible's products was especially good, with a substantial volume of business expected in the first quarter of 1963. This will not be as great as was the case in the first quarter of 1962, he said, when customers were buying as a strike hedge.

He added there is no evidence of hedge buying against a 1963 strike threat as yet. He said buyers are waiting for evidence of need for it. He said this may not occur until around May 1.

Hunter commented in connection with the new depreciation guidelines and the investment credit, combined with improved earnings, that "the more money that becomes available, the greater the ability to plough back funds into the property."

In recent years Crucible, following long-range plans for improvement, has taken many steps to improve its productive facilities.

"The new continuous hot strip mill completed at Midland Works last year has enabled us to improve our quality through better control of dimensions and more uniform surface," he said. "With a larger and more versatile primary rolling capacity, we can now produce products we were not able to make before."

Other new facilities were cited as contributing to Crucible's progress. The Dortmund-Horder vacuum treating unit at Midland completed in 1960, has improved quality of open hearth and electric steels.

The bright anneal line was the first capable of handling stainless strip 48 inches wide. The process results in stainless with highly reflective finish and shows significant improvement in corrosion resistance properties.

Among other improvements are new annealing and pickling lines; facilities to increase capacity for vaccuum melted steels; electrification of the merchant and blooming mills; and improvements in raw material processing.

Last summer Crucible began construction of a new process research laboratory strengthening its technology department. The company views it as an important contribution to the reduction of costs and to the improvement of quality and service to our customers.

Crucible's investments in the past dozen years amount to more than $150 million dollars or about two-thirds of its total plant investment.

Wreck, Fire Kill Woman; Driver Cited

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Fire resulting from a head-on automobile collision on U.S. 40 enveloped two cars and killed a young woman occupant of one Thursday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol blamed a third car for the accident that took the life of Miss Florence MacDougall, 23, of Louisville, Ky., and seriously injured her fiance and another companion. They were headed for Urbana, Ill., returning to the University of Illinois from vacation.

The patrol arrested the alleged careless driver after he had traveled from the Guernsey County crash scene, eight miles east of here, into adjoining Belmont County. Daryl Newton, 23, of McConnelsville was jailed here on a charge of passing without assured clear distance.

According to the patrol, Herbert Starr, 30, of Rt. 1, Salesville, Guernsey County, was driving east when Newton passed him and cut in short. Starr's auto was forced onto the icy berm and bounced back onto the road and across the center line. The westbound small foreign-make vehicle carrying Miss MacDougall struck the Starr car. Both cars burst into flames.

Miss MacDougall was thrown out in the crash but was burned fatally as she lay alongside the car. Her fiance, David Longreth, 22, and Nils Fernelious, 28, both of Pittsburgh, were admitted to Guernsey Memorial Hospital here with major injuries.

Kiwanis Sees Ancient Items

A discussion of his hobby of archaeology was presented by John Fitch of Lisbon, a retired Hall China Co. employe, who also displayed some of his artifacts at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

They included a cast copper ax found in Ross County which Fitch believes may have been cast by one of the settlers taken captive when Indians overran Jamestown.

Casting was too great a cultural step for the Indians, he explained.

Two of the specimens he exhibited are so similar in workmanship that they must have been made by the same workman although one was found in Mahoning County and the other at Green's Hill near Lisbon.

Several hand axes also were displayed by Fitch who said one found at a Columbiana County site is made of iron oxide. The broken piece shows the metamorphosis from black to red oxide (hematite) which Fitch said would require several centuries.

One artifact was estimated to be 325,000 to 400,000 years old and a hand ax discovered in England belonged to the paleolithic age some 200,000 to 240,00 years ago, Fitch said.

He was introduced by Fred Simmen, program chiarman. Paul Blair, president, presided.

Former Irondale Man Starts Duties In New Jersey Post

William S. Hart, former Irondale resident, completed his first week on the job Thursday as New Jersey's first director of the State Division of Youth.

The oath was administered Dec. 20 by Superior Court Judge Sidney Gilman. A brother of the new director, John (Tim) Hart, held the Bible used in the ceremony and Gov. Richard J. Hughes was present.

Hart's job is to help youngsters who came from as humble origin as his own. His father, John Hart of Irondale, was a clay miner for many years at the Irondale plant of the H. K. Porter Co. and is now retired. Mr. and Mrs. Hart have seven children.

Bill was the third child in his family and did a variety of jobs such as raising livestock and working on the railroad, in a brickyard and sewer pipe plant.

"Maybe I am prejudiced," he said, "but I think education for everyone is the basic cure for juvenile delinquency. That means education for the kids and the adults."

The former school teacher said that while education may be the long - term answer, economics is the key to the problem. "Idle youths," he said," are the ones who get into trouble."

Hart, father of four youngsters, also favors a "domestic Peace Corps" along the lines of the old Civil Conservation Corps which took millions of young men out of the cities and off the roads in the 1930's and put them to work on conservation projects in parts of America most would never have seen otherwise.

Former Irondale Man Starts Duties In New Jersey Post

William S. Hart, former Irondale resident, completed his first week on the job Thursday as New Jersey's first director of the State Division of Youth.

The oath was administered Dec. 20 by Superior Court Judge Sidney Gilman. A brother of the new director, John (Tim) Hart, held the Bible used in the ceremony and Gov. Richard J. Hughes was present.

Hart's job is to help youngsters who came from as humble origin as his own. His father, John Hart of Irondale, was a clay miner for many years at the Irondale plant of the H. K. Porter Co. and is now retired. Mr. and Mrs. Hart have seven children.

Bill was the third child in his family and did a variety of jobs such as raising livestock and working on the railroad, in a brickyard and sewer pipe plant.

"Maybe I am prejudiced," he said, "but I think education for everyone is the basic cure for juvenile delinquency. That means education for the kids and the adults."

The former school teacher said that while education may be the long - term answer, economics is the key to the problem. "Idle youths," he said," are the ones who get into trouble."

Hart, father of four youngsters, also favors a "domestic Peace Corps" along the lines of the old Civil Conservation Corps which took millions of young men out of the cities and off the roads in the 1930's and put them to work on conservation projects in parts of America most would never have seen otherwise.

Kiwanis Sees Ancient Items

A discussion of his hobby of archaeology was presented by John Fitch of Lisbon, a retired Hall China Co. employe, who also displayed some of his artifacts at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

They included a cast copper ax found in Ross County which Fitch believes may have been cast by one of the settlers taken captive when Indians overran Jamestown.

Casting was too great a cultural step for the Indians, he explained.

Two of the specimens he exhibited are so similar in workmanship that they must have been made by the same workman although one was found in Mahoning County and the other at Green's Hill near Lisbon.

Several hand axes also were displayed by Fitch who said one found at a Columbiana County site is made of iron oxide. The broken piece shows the metamorphosis from black to red oxide (hematite) which Fitch said would require several centuries.

One artifact was estimated to be 325,000 to 400,000 years old and a hand ax discovered in England belonged to the paleolithic age some 200,000 to 240,00 years ago, Fitch said.

He was introduced by Fred Simmen, program chiarman. Paul Blair, president, presided.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Good Health Habits Can Be Cultivated

Singing star Carmel Quinn is 5 feet 5 tall and a streamlined 120 pounds. She has blazing red hair, sparkling blue eyes and an Irish brogue that is a delight to the ear.

Ida Jean Kain

What's the secret of her ebullient spirit and streamlined figure? Exercise. A large part of her glow of health comes from the hour's walk she takes daily in the fresh air. This girl loves to exercise just for the sheer joy of moving. With very little urging she turned a handspring for me in her suite at the Shoreham Hotel.

The habit of vigorous exercise began back in Ireland in Carmel's growing up years. Irish school children exercise for 30 minutes in the morning and for 15 minutes in the afternoon. Besides calisthenics, she took Irish dancing, twice a week.

CARMEL IS the proud mother of three healthy children, and she still has a wedding - ring waistline of 24 inches.

"Girls who are afraid to have children for fear it will spoil their career — they are wrong!" she told me earnestly. But her doctor must get the credit, she admitted. He positively refused to let her overeat. Let her tell it.

"I arrived in this country from Ireland weighing 137 pounds. When I checked in with the doctor, the first thing he said to me was that he wanted me to lose 10 pounds! Lose, mind you, when here all the time I thought you should eat for two when you have a baby. He hardly let me eat enough for one!" Carmel said emphatically.

"You'll hate me now, but you'll love me later when you have a healthy baby and your own trim figure too," the doctor told her. He restricted her weight gain to a total of 14 pounds during each of her pregnancies. Her babies weighed between 9 and 10 pounds.

The doctor explained that so many happy, slim girls turn into unhappy, heavy matrons, all because they indulge in too much food when they are having their children.

Nature takes for the baby only what is required. After that anything you eat in excess of your own needs goes straight to hips and this fat doesn't leave when the baby arrives.

What did she eat? Breakfast: Half grapefruit, soft boiled egg, melba toast, hot tea. No salt. Lunch: Big leafy green salad with a generous half cup of cottage cheese, melba toast, glass of skim milk. Dinner: Moderate serving of lean meat, two vegetables, a salad, fruit or gelatine for dessert, skim milk.

She had a quart of skim milk each day, plus a vitamin concentrate which her doctor prescribed.

"TELL YOUNG mothers that no matter how much they rebel when the doctor insists on keeping the calories down...and to keep the walking up...tell them it's worth it!" she urged.

Today she can eat lots of food and not gain. Her secret? Daily exercise!

WHAT IS IT? A strange sight is this gargoyle which is mounted above the entrance to Pittsburgh's First Presbyterian Church. The water usually flowing from the mouth froze and appeared to be a long tongue.

Long Arm Of Law Nabs Man In Dayton On Murder Count

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The long arm of the law stretched from Somerset, Ky., to Dayton, Ohio, to snare Roy Gill, 28, on a murder charge.

Montgomery County detectives nabbed Gill in short order Thursday after the Pulaski County, Ky., sheriff issued a warrant for him in the Christmas night robbery-slaying of Murrell Trimble, a Somerset television repairman.

Taken into custody with Gill were his wife, Barbara Jean, 25, and a woman described as a material witness, Barbara Russell, 24, of Rt. 2, Troy.

After Trimble's body was found in his auto Wednesday near Lake Cumberland west of Somerset, investigators questioned Trimble's wife. She told Sheriff Gilmore Phelps that Gill was an old friend and had called Christmas night to arrange to meet Trimble in downtown Somerset. Trimble never returned home. He was beaten and shot to death.

Further investigation led to Dayton, Gill's home.

Officers said thirty $100 bills and five $20 bills were found in a tissue box in the bathroom and a revolver in the washing machine in Gill's home. In Gill's car, the detectives reported, they turned up Trimble's bloody wallet and a blood-stained hammer.

Talks Slated In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The strike by the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the Teamsters Union against the city's two major daily newspapers entered its fifth week today.

Management representatives of the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Cleveland Press and News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, planned to negotiate at 6 p.m. with officials of Teamsters Local 473. That union represents 455 delivery drivers at the two papers.

The next Guild negotiating session is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The Guild bargains for 688 employes in editorial departments of the two papers and the commercial department of the Press.

The guild accused the publishers Thursday of "deliberately stalling" in negotiations, claiming it was clear management was not prepared to bargain in earnest with the Guild until settlements had been reached with other unions employed by the papers.

Thomas Vail, vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co., which owns the Plain Dealer, replied that management had made its final offer to the guild last Friday. That offer was rejected by Guild negotiators.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, met with Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press and News Thursday and then came out in support of the publishers in their dispute with the Guild over union security.

Ford was killed Thursday night, deputies said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Minow Can't Help Viewers Either

If any kind of revolution is to hit TV in the coming new year, it will have to come from the viewers themselves. Don't expect any help or leadership from the industry or the government.

Hal Humphrey

This was made all too clear again last week when the FCC's Newton Minow passed through Hollywood briefly.

"Knock! Knock!" said Chairman Minow.

"Who's there?" asked the big TV executive.

"Mr. Newton, the giant TV killer."

"I'm sorry," replied the big TV executive, "but there's nobody in here but us angels."

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN exactly like that, but it may as well have. At a panel discussion sponsored by the TV Academy in the Palladium ballroom where the walls still were echoing Lawrence Welk's slogan, "Wunnerful, wunnerful!" Minow was surrounded by seven executives and one TV writer.

Occasionally they had some harsh things to say of each other, but each protested his own innocence of any complicity in the crimes perpetrated by TV as we see it today.

Perhaps Minow flinched a bit when one TV executive announced that "TV is an art form and must be kept free," but generally he played the game according to the rules and pleaded not guilty to any charges of "government interference."

IN DEFENDING network TV, another executive said the medium must be big just like the automotive industry or the food and drug industries, "whether we like it or not."

At the same panel discussion, still another TV executive referred to TV as "the delivery system of the gods." Somehow it seemed difficult to equate (there's a word the TV brass love to use (all of these descriptions as definitions of the same TV medium.

If TV is an art form operated on the scale of an automobile industry with a God-like mission, we are indeed beholding a wondrous achievement.

In an early meeting the same day, Minow told members of the National Association for Better Radio and Television that "we (the FCC) do not hear from the public enough, and unless you tell us what you want, we can't speak up for you."

HE SAID he thought programming had improved somewhat this past year ("There's less blood on the living room floor"), and although he wouldn't admit it, probably this was because of his own "wasteland" speech. If he did admit it, this would constitute "government interference."

There is no doubt that Minow's wings have been trimmed quite sharply since he soared off to that fine start, and that's why he pleads for public support.

If he doesn't get it, then A. C. Nielsen and his 1,200 little black boxes will go on determining the bulk of what we see on TV.

Even Minow is disturbed by the fact, as he stated, that Nielsen has fewer than six of these little black boxes in all of Utah, and that is the only voice Utah has in what it sees on TV from the networks.

THE FCC CHAIRMAN said he was happy to report that, through the FCC's encouragement, more boradcasters are editorializing, but that even more should do so.

He might have added that the individual should do more "editorializing" by voicing his opinion freely and openly.

Just because Mr. Nielsen's magic little boxes tell us which 10 shows on TV are watched by 40 million people doesn't mean we all have to like those shows, but the TV industry rarely considers the fact that 40 million other people don't like what's on TV most of the time—because it never hears from them.

A strike would involve the Sheraton-Gibson, Netherland-Hilton, Terrace-Hilton, Sinton, Metropole and Alms Hotels.

Invasion Survivors To Give Kennedy Their Combat Flag

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cuban fighters who survived the Bay of Pigs invasion will give President Kennedy their combat flag—"the greatest treasure we possess"—when he reviews their brigade Saturday in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Kennedy will fly to the football stadium in response to a personal invitation from Cuban freedom leaders who promised Thursday "we shall return" to liberate the island.

The Cubans plan to muster the 1,113 survivors of their Brigade 2506, uniformed in khaki trousers and shirts, for a military display.

The President will make a brief speech.

The ceremony will be televised live by ABC. NBC will delay its telecast for presentation at noon. A CBS spokesman said no decision had been reached on that network's coverage plans.

After meeting for an hour and 10 minutes with Kennedy at his vacation headquarters here Thursday, five Cuban leaders held a dramatic press conference in which they reported that the President told them "he hoped some day to visit a free Cuba."

They said Kennedy praised the heroic efforts the invaders made in an attempt to free their homeland and "in defense of the democracies of the world."

Wearing somber black suits, white shirts and black ties, the five Cubans said they feel they owe a debt to those who gave their lives in the U.S.-backed invasion of April 1961 which was crushed by Fidel Castro's government forces at the Bay of Pigs.

"We will pay our debt by freeing our country," said Manuel Artime, the political leader of the invasion brigade.

Erneido Oliva, second in command of the invasion unit, described the historic flag the brigade wants Kennedy to have. He said it had gone with the men through their pre-invasion training and flown over their command post for three days in the battle of the Bay of Pigs.

"We will be giving President Kennedy the greatest treasure that we possess at the present time," Oliva declared.

Police Hunting Clues In W. Va. Butcher-Slaying

GAULEY BRIDGE, W. Va. (AP) —Police searched today for clues in the butcher-slaying of a youth whose body was found yesterday just off U.S. 60 on Gauley Mountain near here.

Meanwhile, fears mounted that two other missing men — 70, the other 33 — may have met the same grim fate. The youth's body, chopped into 13 pieces, had been "butchered like a hog," said an examining doctor. The possibility of a sex motive was under investigation.

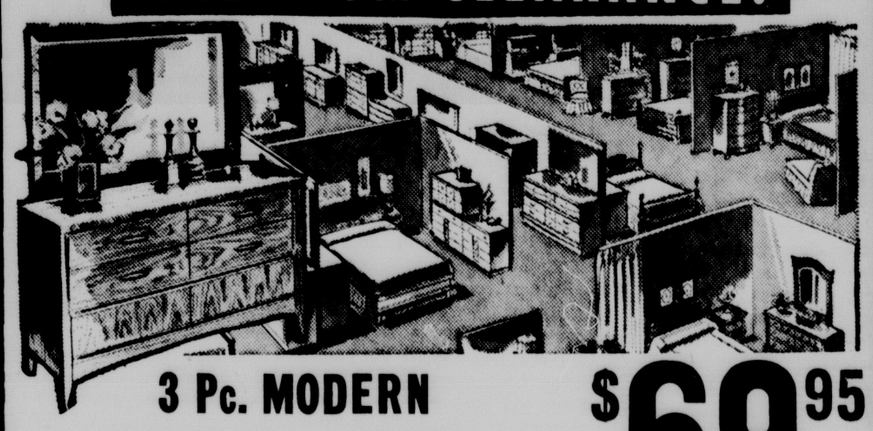

State Trooper Gordon Swartz tentatively identified the dead youth as Michael Rogers, 20, of Oak Hill, a mentally retarded ward of the state who had been missing since Dec. 19.

Names of the two other missing men were not disclosed, but Swartz said both disappeared from the same area.

The multilated body was found by Bill Priest of Chimney Corner as he hunted for bottles near Hawks Nest Country Club.

No weapons or tools were found near the body, but Swartz said the doctor reported the mutilation was done by a person familiar with butchering. The victim had been dead at least 48 hours when his body was found.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Minow Can't Help Viewers Either

If any kind of revolution is to hit TV in the coming new year, it will have to come from the viewers themselves. Don't expect any help or leadership from the industry or the government.

Hal Humphrey

This was made all too clear again last week when the FCC's Newton Minow passed through Hollywood briefly.

"Knock. Knock!" said Chairman Minow.

"Mr. Newton, the giant TV killer."

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN exactly like that, but it may as well have. At a panel discussion sponsored by the TV Academy in the Palladium ballroom where the walls still were echoing Lawrence Welk's slogan, "Wunnerful, wunnerful!" Minow was surrounded by seven executives and one TV writer.

Occasionally they had some harsh things to say of each other, but each protested his own innocence of any complicity in the crimes perpetrated by TV as we see it today.

Perhaps Minow flinched a bit when one TV executive announced that "TV is an art form and must be kept free," but generally he played the game according to the rules and pleaded not guilty to any charges of "government interference."

IN DEFENDING network TV, another executive said the medium must be big just like the automotive industry or the food and drug industries, "whether we like it or not."

At the same panel discussion, still another TV executive referred to TV as "the delivery system of the gods." Somehow it seemed difficult to equate (there's a word the TV brass love to use (all of these descriptions as definitions of the same TV medium.

If TV is an art form operated on the scale of an automobile industry with a God-like mission, we are indeed beholding a wondrous achievement.

In an early meeting the same day, Minow told members of the National Association for Better Radio and Television that "we (the FCC) do not hear from the public enough, and unless you tell us what you want, we can't speak up for you."

HE SAID he thought programming had improved somewhat this past year ("There's less blood on the living room floor"), and although he wouldn't admit it, probably this was because of his own "wasteland" speech. If he did admit it, this would constitute "government interference."

There is no doubt that Minow's wings have been trimmed quite sharply since he soared off to that fine start, and that's why he pleads for public support.

If he doesn't get it, then A. C. Nielsen and his 1,200 little black boxes will go on determining the bulk of what we see on TV.

Even Minow is disturbed by the fact, as he stated, that Nielsen has fewer than six of these little black boxes in all of Utah, and that is the only voice Utah has in what it sees on TV from the networks.

THE FCC CHAIRMAN said he was happy to report that, through the FCC's encouragement, more boradcasters are editorializing, but that even more should do so.

He might have added that the individual should do more "editorializing" by voicing his opinion freely and openly.

Just because Mr. Nielsen's magic little boxes tell us which 10 shows on TV are watched by 40 million people doesn't mean we all have to like those shows, but the TV industry rarely considers the fact that 40 million other people don't like what's on TV most of the time—because it never hears from them.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Make a "hair-do" apron from a large bath-towel that has become too thin for good drying. Fold in half crosswise, cut out a circle to fit the neck and cut an opening down the front. Bind with bias tape. This also helps use up odds and ends of tape!

Sew a large pocket at the bottom of the apron. It can be made from a washcloth or from the circular piece cut from the neck hole. Make a smaller narrow pocket on the other side.

In the large pocket keep rollers or clips. In the small pocket keep your comb. This is easy to work with when putting your hair up, keeps your dress clean, and is easy to launder as it needs no ironing.

I put this hair-do apron on when I take my hair down. I pocket, the comb in the narrow pocket and put the apron away. By doing this, everything is ready when I want to "do up" my hair the next time.

GOOD NEIGHBOR.

I tried this hint and found it so satisfactory that now everytime I cook fish sticks or anything in the oven which requires fresh lemon juice, a few minutes before the food is done, I place my lemons in the oven and heat them for a few minutes.

After doing this a few times, I came across a better idea: Now, instead of just heating one lemon which is enough for only the usual supper, I put three or four lemons in the oven. I let these cool and place in my refrigerator. The next time it's tea time, I've got the juiciest lemons in town!

Ohio Democrats Seek Indiana's Success Formula

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic leaders want to learn the Indiana Democrats' formula for election success.

Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman said Welsh is expected to tell about the recent election campaign in which Birch Bayh, youthful Democrat, won the U.S. Senate seat of veteran Republican Sen. Homer Capehart.

The dinner-dance will take place in the Buckeye Building at the State Fairgrounds. Those who pay the $15 admission will be among the first to hear what Gov. Michael V. DiSalle plans to do after he leaves office Jan. 14, for he's promised to tell at the "get well" shindig.

Judge Continues 2 Sunday Sales Cases

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Judge Fred Cramer of Common Pleas Court has continued two Sunday sales cases for the filing of motions and memoranda.

Attorneys for Rinks Bargain City and the Miracle Mart, both in Fairfield, challenged the court's jurisdiction Thursday, contending the cases should have gone to Fairfield Municipal Court.

Mrs. Rhodes Enters Columbus Hospital

The hospital said Mrs. Rhodes entered Thursday with a backache. She was reported in satisfactory condition.

Four Ice Show Producers File Decree With U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department reports four ice show producers, two from Cleveland and two from Pittsburgh, have agreed to refrain from antitrust violations.

The Cleveland firms are Holiday on Ice Shows, Inc., and North American Ice Attractions, Inc. The Pittsburgh producers are Ice Capades, Inc., and International Ice Attractions, Inc.

The companies filed a consent decree in U. S. District Court at Pittsburgh Thursday, according to the department. They consented to dissolve an agreement, entered in 1957, as of next June 30.

The government, in a civil antitrust suit filed March 27, charged that under the contract they eliminated competition by sharing costs, splitting profits and allocating performance territories.

The settlement also includes a promise from Holiday, International and Ice Capades to sell or dissolve North American by next Sept. 1.

East End IOOF Sets Installation

Plans for installation of 1963 officers were discussed at the meeting of Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 Thursday night at the East End IOOF Hall.

George Hood, noble grand, will head the slate of 15 officers to be inducted Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. with a luncheon to follow.

There will also be an observance of the 181st birthday anniversary of Thomas Wilday, founder of the order.

The lodge also discussed arrangements for a public supper to raise funds for improvement to the lodge building. The date will be set.

Appointed as an auditing committee were Ed Wolfe, Clarence Smith and Hood. It will report at next Thursday's meeting. Charles Brown, George Circle and Lyman Earle were reported ill.

The secretary bird derives its popular name from the peculiar plumes of feathers which project from the back and sides of its head and give it the appearance of having bundles of pens stuck behind each ear.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Make a "hair-do" apron from a large bath-towel that has become too thin for good drying. Fold in half crosswise, cut out a circle to fit the neck and cut an opening down the front. Bind with bias tape. This also helps use up odds and ends of tape!

Sew a large pocket at the bottom of the apron. It can be made from a washcloth or from the circular piece cut from the neck hole. Make a smaller narrow pocket on the other side.

In the large pocket keep rollers or clips. In the small pocket keep your comb. This is easy to work with when putting your hair up, keeps your dress clean, and is easy to launder as it needs no ironing.

I put this hair-do apron on when I take my hair down. I pocket, the comb in the narrow pocket and put the apron away. By doing this, everything is ready when I want to "do up" my hair the next time.

Wide Open Games Predicted In 4 Grid Attractions

High-Scoring Fray Hinted In Gator Bowl

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wide open football was predicted today for Saturday's Gator Bowl, East-West and Blue-Gray games and the Louisiana State-Texas Cotton Bowl meeting New Year's Day.

Rip Engle, whose Penn State 9-1 club meets Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., wouldn't say right out he expected a high scoring game, but he hinted at it.

"It will be a wide open game," said Charlie.

McClendon's forecast was rather surprising considering that both teams are noted for their defense. But he explained that each squad would have to go all out offensively in order to crack the other's portals. Texas had a 9-0-1 record during the regular campaign while LSU was 8-1-1.

In San Francisco, scene of the East-West Shrine Game, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, assisting head coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue in readying the East squad, declared: "The skills are there to make for an offensive explosion."

With this in mind, Mollenkopf has been drilling his club on goal line stands as the practice session for each team began tapering off.

And, in Montgomery, Ala., where the Blue-Gray game will be played, both coaches, Tom Nugent, the Rebels' head man, and Bob Devaney of the North are planning wide-open-game strategy. Nugent is working up a shotgun formation with two wingbacks and split ends.

The remainder of the major bowl schedule coming up in the next week pits West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 mark, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Monday and three other games of New Year's Day, Southern California 10-0 against Wisconsin 8-1 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Alabama 9-1 versus Oklahoma 8-2 in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. and Mississippi 9-0 against Arkansas 9-1 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

There was good news for Oklahoma supporters, but sad tidings from the Southern California camp Thursday.

Gator Bowl's Teams Set To End Drills

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — With one eye on the weather, football Coaches Rip Engle and Ray Graves put the last bit of polish on their teams today for the Gator Bowl game Saturday.

Engle's Penn State Nittany Lions are favored by a touchdown or a little more to dump Graves' Florida Gators in this meeting of the 1960 and 1961 Gator Bowl champs.

Penn State, winner over Georgia Tech 30-15 in last year's Gator Bowl game, went on to a near-perfect season and a return trip to Jacksonville. The Lions lost only to Army—a 9-6 upset in which two apparent Penn State touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

Florida, since beating Baylor 13-12 in the Gator Bowl game of 1960, has had to struggle to make another bowl date—and this one came chiefly through default when Georgia Tech decided against a replay of last year and Duke decided to stay home for the holidays.

So the Florida Gators are here with a something less than a glamorous 6-4 season record and the catcalls of critics ringing in their ears.

Despite Strong Opposition

Title Fight Rematch Due

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite strong opposition, a rematch for the heavyweight championship between titleholder Sonny Liston and former crown-wearer Floyd Patterson loomed today as a distinct possibility following a somewhat clandestine meeting between representatives of the two camps.

Promoter Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., revealed Thursday he is discussing a rematch with Patterson; Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser; Nilon's attorney, and Patterson's attorney.

The Thursday night meeting was held at Nilon's New York residence. Before the closed-door session, Nilon said either Baltimore or Las Vegas was the likely site but reminded that Patterson would call the shot for a March or April fight.

"I hope," said Bolan, "we'll be able to iron out an agreement and reduce it to writing for a contract. I don't think we'll be able to do it all in one night."

What about the two main items standing in the way of the proposed rematch — Liston's purse from the first fight and the opposition of World Boxing Association officials?

"Liston will get the money (more than $200,000) before he fights," said Bolan's brother, Al, who is charged with inspection of sites for the rematch.

Tom Bolan said he wasn't concerned about the statements made by WBA officials, who have publicly stated that Patterson should meet one of the other challengers before fighting Liston again. Both Maryland and Nevada are members of the WBA.

Emile Bruneau, WBA championship committee chairman, said Monday his committee would recommend the automatic suspension from the WBA of any state or country that accepted a Liston-Patterson rematch at this time.

Aussie Stars End Davis Cup Careers With Big Victories

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser and Rod Laver, two of the latest in Australia's long line of tennis champions, closed out their Davis Cup careers with victories today which gave Australia a 5-0 sweep over Mexico in the 1962 challenge round.

It was the last big time match as an amateur for both.

Fraser, 29, limping and leg weary, put on a tremendous fighting exhibition for a 3-6, 11-9, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4 triumph over Mexico's No. 1 ace, Rafael Osuna, in a marathon match which lasted two hours, 45 minutes.

The handsome Melbourne lefthander, who won Wimbledon in 1960 and the U.S. championship in 1959 and 1960 announced it was the swan song of his long competitive career.

"I have been traveling around the world playing tennis for 10 years," he said. "I have had it."

Then Laver, winner of every major tournament during the past year in a grand slam paralleling that of Don Budge in 1938, turned back talented Antonio Palafox, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

With the same deft left hand which carried him to a world pinnacle in amateur tennis, Laver Saturday is expected to sign a $110,000 contract for a professional career.

Pitcher Due Saving By Marrying Earlier

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Carol McNabb and San Francisco Giant pitcher Bob Garibaldi expect to save $9,000 by marrying before 1963.

Garibaldi, 21, who received a $150,000 bonus for signing last season, planned to marry Miss McNabb in January. But the date has been advanced to Dec. 30. That way he says he'll save the $9,000 because of the community property income tax law.

The couple, who met in the fourth grade, have been dating steady for eight years.

Unbeaten Loyola Races To 8th Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was James Naismith and a peach basket. Now it's Paul Marschalls and a squashed basket. And between the inventor and the innovator, Loyola of Chicago has turned a matter of inches into a huge advantage.

On the second day of the holiday tournament scramble Thursday, some favorites felt like Santa climbing down the chimney—not much room to spare—but it was a different story for the powerful Ramblers.

The nation's highest scoring basketball team, undefeated and third-ranked, raced to an 81-62 victory over Arkansas in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. It was the eighth victory for the Ramblers and another triumph for Marschalls and the squashed basket.

Loyola Coach George Ireland stumbled upon the Pierre, S.D., innovator two years ago. Marschalls had tampered slightly with the game Naismith invented and took the liberty of trimming the standard 18-inch rim to 15. The Ramblers used it prior to the season in six weeks of practice.

"I don't know where he makes these things," says Ireland, maybe in his basement, but I liked the idea right off. It has made us a better shooting team."

That's the way the hot-shooting Ramblers felt as they moved into tonight's semifinals of the All-College—the oldest holiday tournament in the country, but only one of a host of major college extravaganzas holding the spotlight on the nation's basketball courts.

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U. outclassed Northwestern 75-50 and qualified for Saturday night's final along with UCLA, which bopped St. Louis, 85-66.

Hurricane Classic at Miami—Undefeated Miami crushed Cornell 94-74 and will take on Pitt, 96-73 conqueror of LSU, in tonight's windup.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Oklahoma State nipped Oklahoma 49-48 and Kansas State walloped Missouri 61-43 to complete the first round.

Far West Portland, Ore.—California outlasted Seattle 85-77 in overtime and Oregon State handed Idaho its first defeat 80-53 to complete the first round.

West Coast at San Francisco—St. Mary's whipped Los Angeles Loyola 83-71 and San Francisco beat Portland 56-50 to complete the first round.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Eastern Kentucky edged TCU 69-65 and Southern Mississippi beat Northwestern Louisiana 85-71 to complete the first round.

Still in the spotlight, but outside the tournament limelight, two of the top ten elite came through with victories. Second-ranked Ohio State, getting 24 points from Gary Bradds, had to battle all the way to subdue stubborn Butler 66-62, but fifth-ranked Kentucky had no such problem with Dartmouth, winning 95-49.

OSU's Second-Half Rally Nips Butler Five, 66-62

By The Associated Press

Ohio collegiate basketball teams, which have found the going exceedingly rough in the three games played so far this vacationtime week, appear on far-flung fronts in tournament action tonight.

Ohio State's No. 2 ranked Buckeyes, not competing in any tourneys this trip, had to hustle all the way Thursday night to beat Butler 66-62 at the tenacious Bulldogs' home in Indianapolis. But Toledo lost 76-61 to Memphis State in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City, making Ohio teams 0-2 in tourney play for the week.

For Toledo and for Bowling Green, upset 58-57 by St. Joseph's (Pa.) a night earlier in the Quaker City meet at Philadelphia, only consolation prizes are available as they continue tourney play.

But Xavier, in the Sugar Bowl Classic at New Orleans; Miami, in the Alpine Tourney at Charleston, W. Va.; Ohio Wesleyan, favored in the Loyola Invitational at Baltimore, and Findlay, in an Indianapolis festival, swing into action nursing at least slight title hopes. And host Mount Union and Hiram seek to uphold Ohio honor against out-of-staters in a four-team event in Alliance.

Undefeated Ohio State's seventh victory proved its hardest to come by. Battling Butler (now 2-7) had put the only blemishes on the records of Michigan and Notre Dame and was out to do the same to the Bucks.

The Bulldogs dominated play in the first half and Ohio fans squirmed through intermission looking at a scoreboard that read Butler 28, Ohio State 20.

At the start of the second half thuogh, the Buckeyes quickly hushed the roaring Hoosier fans in the crowd of 12,975 with a swift attack that ran up 15 points to 3. That put Ohio on top 35-31. Butler caught up again but the Bucks broke a 40-40 knot with six straight points and kept the lead thereafter, although the Bulldogs stayed on their heels to the finish.

Toledo lost to Memphis despite 33 points by the Rockets' Ray Wolford. The Ohioans led in the early going but Memphis pulled away from a 25-25 count and steadily increased its lead.

Ohio U. Slates Heavy Work For Sun Bowl Game

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The Ohio University Bobcats had a heavy schedule today including a workout and a skull session in preparation for the Sun Bowl football game against West Texas State Monday.

The Bobcats arrived two hours late Thursday. A head-wind forced an extra refueling stop on the flight from Columbus, Ohio.

Thirty minutes after arrival, the Bobcats were working out under the lights at El Paso High School field. Coach Bill Hess called the drill to overcome stiffness from the Christmas layoff.

A planned motorcade through downtown El Paso was limited to a few hundred yards—from the International Airport to the nearby Hilton Inn.

The Bobcats have a skull session this morning and then will be guests of the El Paso Touchdown Club at luncheon.

Hess has scheduled a 3 p.m. workout.

Tittle Recalls 37-To-0 Clobbering By Packers

NEW YORK (AP)—Y.A. Tittle and his New York Giant mates have lived with a bad dream since last New Year's Eve. The horror film always has the same humiliating ending—Green Bay 37, New York 0. It must be the longest hangover ever, almost 12 months

Tittle talked about the 1961 game Thursday in the locker room at Bear Mountain after a satisfying workout for Sunday's NFL title rematch with the Packers at Yankee Stadium.

"No excuses," he said. "We were beaten real close—37-0. But no club is that much better than another in this league. When you get off to a bad start the other team gets momentum. Then you try things that you shouldn't and things go from bad to worse. It's a good thing it ended when it did."

"This is another year. I figure it is an even game. The chips are down. We're fired up. We're out to beat the Packers and I know Andy (player-coach Robustelli) has his defensive club ready."

After viewing the films of the Packers' losing game with Detroit and winning second game with Los Angeles, Coach Allie Sherman is inclined to rate the 1962 Packers "much the same, only better" than last year's club.

Rangers Rip Boston, 9-3

By The Associated Press

"What are they doin'?" moaned a New York hockey buff a few weeks ago when the Rangers' brain trust broke up the Andy Bathgate-Dean Prentice-Earl Ingarfield line and moved Prentice onto another line. "That's the only good thing about the Rangers."

That irked individual apparently knew what he was moaning about because this trio, since re-united, has been one of the brightest features of the Blueshirts' play recently.

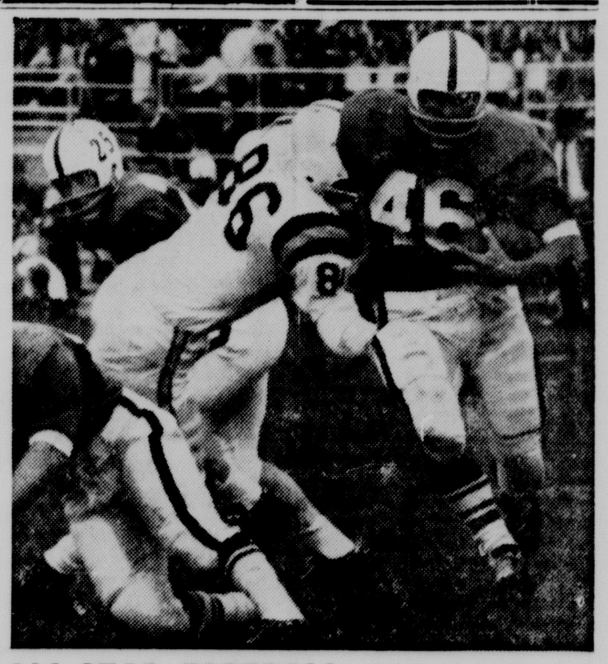

Thursday night, the No. 1 line clicked for 14 points as New York walloped Boston 9-3 in the only game on the National Hockey League slate. The Rangers' goal count was the highest this season.

Bathgate had a goal and four assists to take over the circuit's scoring lead with 37 points, one more than Toronto's Frank Mahovlich. Ingarfield had two goals and three assists while Prentice picked up two goals and two assists. It was the sixth straight game in which Bathgate has scored.

Wide Open Games Predicted In 4 Grid Attractions

High-Scoring Fray Hinted In Gator Bowl

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wide open football was predicted today for Saturday's Gator Bowl, East-West and Blue-Gray games and the Louisiana State-Texas Cotton Bowl meeting New Year's Day.

Rip Engle, whose Penn State 9-1 club meets Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., wouldn't say right out he expected a high scoring game, but he hinted at it.

"It will be a wide open game," said Charlie.

McClendon's forecast was rather surprising considering that both teams are noted for their defense. But he explained that each squad would have to go all out offensively in order to crack the other's portals. Texas had a 9-0-1 record during the regular campaign while LSU was 8-1-1.

In San Francisco, scene of the East-West Shrine Game, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, assisting head coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue in readying the East squad, declared: "The skills are there to make for an offensive explosion."

With this in mind, Mollenkopf has been drilling his club on goal line stands as the practice session for each team began tapering off.

And, in Montgomery, Ala., where the Blue-Gray game will be played, both coaches, Tom Nugent, the Rebels' head man, and Bob Devaney of the North are planning wide-open-game strategy. Nugent is working up a shotgun formation with two wingbacks and split ends.

The remainder of the major bowl schedule coming up in the next week pits West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 mark, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Monday and three other games of New Year's Day, Southern California 10-0 against Wisconsin 8-1 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Alabama 9-1 versus Oklahoma 8-2 in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. and Mississippi 9-0 against Arkansas 9-1 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

There was good news for Oklahoma supporters, but sad tidings from the Southern California camp Thursday.

Flu-ridden Monte Deere, the Sooners' fine quarterback, rejoined his teammates and went through the full practice.

Gator Bowl's Teams Set To End Drills

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — With one eye on the weather, football Coaches Rip Engle and Ray Graves put the last bit of polish on their teams today for the Gator Bowl game Saturday.

Engle's Penn State Nittany Lions are favored by a touchdown or a little more to dump Graves' Florida Gators in this meeting of the 1960 and 1961 Gator Bowl champs.

Penn State, winner over Georgia Tech 30-15 in last year's Gator Bowl game, went on to a near-perfect season and a return trip to Jacksonville. The Lions lost only to Army—a 9-6 upset in which two apparent Penn State touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

Florida, since beating Baylor 13-12 in the Gator Bowl game of 1960, has had to struggle to make another bowl date—and this one came chiefly through default when Georgia Tech decided against a replay of last year and Duke decided to stay home for the holidays.

So the Florida Gators are here with a something less than a glamorous 6-4 season record and the catcalls of critics ringing in their ears.

Despite Strong Opposition

Title Fight Rematch Due

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite strong opposition, a rematch for the heavyweight championship between titleholder Sonny Liston and former crown-wearer Floyd Patterson loomed today as a distinct possibility following a somewhat clandestine meeting between representatives of the two camps.

Promoter Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., revealed Thursday he is discussing a rematch with Patterson; Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser; Nilon's attorney, and Patterson's attorney.

The Thursday night meeting was held at Nilon's New York residence. Before the closed-door session, Nilon said either Baltimore or Las Vegas was the likely site but reminded that Patterson would call the shot for a March or April fight.

"I hope," said Bolan, "we'll be able to iron out an agreement and reduce it to writing for a contract. I don't think we'll be able to do it all in one night."

What about the two main items standing in the way of the proposed rematch — Liston's purse from the first fight and the opposition of World Boxing Association officials?

"Liston will get the money (more than $200,000) before he fights," said Bolan's brother, Al, who is charged with inspection of sites for the rematch.

Tom Bolan said he wasn't concerned about the statements made by WBA officials, who have publicly stated that Patterson should meet one of the other challengers before fighting Liston again. Both Maryland and Nevada are members of the WBA.

Emile Bruneau, WBA championship committee chairman, said Monday his committee would recommend the automatic suspension from the WBA of any state or country that accepted a Liston-Patterson rematch at this time.

Aussie Stars End Davis Cup Careers With Big Victories

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser and Rod Laver, two of the latest in Australia's long line of tennis champions, closed out their Davis Cup careers with victories today which gave Australia a 5-0 sweep over Mexico in the 1962 challenge round.

It was the last big time match as an amateur for both.

Fraser, 29, limping and leg weary, put on a tremendous fighting exhibition for a 3-6, 11-9, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4 triumph over Mexico's No. 1 ace, Rafael Osuna, in a marathon match which lasted two hours, 45 minutes.

The handsome Melbourne lefthander, who won Wimbledon in 1960 and the U.S. championship in 1959 and 1960 announced it was the swan song of his long competitive career.

"I have been traveling around the world playing tennis for 10 years," he said. "I have had it."

Then Laver, winner of every major tournament during the past year in a grand slam paralleling that of Don Budge in 1938, turned back talented Antonio Palafox, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

With the same deft left hand which carried him to a world pinnacle in amateur tennis, Laver Saturday is expected to sign a $110,000 contract for a professional career.

Pitcher Due Saving By Marrying Earlier

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Carol McNabb and San Francisco Giant pitcher Bob Garibaldi expect to save $9,000 by marrying before 1963.

Garibaldi, 21, who received a $150,000 bonus for signing last season, planned to marry Miss McNabb in January. But the date has been advanced to Dec. 30. That way he says he'll save the $9,000 because of the community property income tax law.

The couple, who met in the fourth grade, have been dating steady for eight years.

Arkansas 81-62 Victim In Tourney

Unbeaten Loyola Races To 8th Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was James Naismith and a peach basket. Now it's Paul Marschalls and a squashed basket. And between the inventor and the innovator, Loyola of Chicago has turned a matter of inches into a huge advantage.

On the second day of the holiday tournament scramble Thursday, some favorites felt like Santa climbing down the chimney—not much room to spare—but it was a different story for the powerful Ramblers.

The nation's highest scoring basketball team, undefeated and third-ranked, raced to an 81-62 victory over Arkansas in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. It was the eighth victory for the Ramblers and another triumph for Marschalls and the squashed basket.

Loyola Coach George Ireland stumbled upon the Pierre, S.D., innovator two years ago. Marschalls had tampered slightly with the game Naismith invented and took the liberty of trimming the standard 18-inch rim to 15. The Ramblers used it prior to the season in six weeks of practice.

"I don't know where he makes these things," says Ireland, maybe in his basement, but I liked the idea right off. It has made us a better shooting team."

That's the way the hot-shooting Ramblers felt as they moved into tonight's semifinals of the All-College—the oldest holiday tournament in the country, but only one of a host of major college extravaganzas holding the spotlight on the nation's basketball courts.

Here's a capsule rundown on the other results:

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U. outclassed Northwestern 75-50 and qualified for Saturday night's final along with UCLA, which bopped St. Louis, 85-66.

Hurricane Classic at Miami—Undefeated Miami crushed Cornell 94-74 and will take on Pitt, 96-73 conqueror of LSU, in tonight's windup.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Oklahoma State nipped Oklahoma 49-48 and Kansas State walloped Missouri 61-43 to complete the first round.

Far West Portland, Ore.—California outlasted Seattle 85-77 in overtime and Oregon State handed Idaho its first defeat 80-53 to complete the first round.

West Coast at San Francisco—St. Mary's whipped Los Angeles Loyola 83-71 and San Francisco beat Portland 56-50 to complete the first round.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Eastern Kentucky edged TCU 69-65 and Southern Mississippi beat Northwestern Louisiana 85-71 to complete the first round.

Still in the spotlight, but outside the tournament limelight, two of the top ten elite came through with victories. Second-ranked Ohio State, getting 24 points from Gary Bradds, had to battle all the way to subdue stubborn Butler 66-62, but fifth-ranked Kentucky had no such problem with Dartmouth, winning 95-49.

Police Arrest Woman As Burglary Suspect

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police arrested what they described as a very determined woman on suspicion of burglary early today.

The woman, Bureda Crowley, 34, was arrested inside an A&P supermarket, police said.

But the hole wasn't big enough for her to gain entrance, so she reached through the hole and retrieved the basket.

Then she hurled it through a plate glass window, and she was able to climb through that opening.

Gets Political Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry F. Ryan, 46, has been named Franklin County Democratic Party chairman, succeeding Walter F. Heer Sr. who resigned Thursday after a 31-year tenure. The county executive committee Thursday night also named Marvin Yerke, realtor, to the post Ryan is relinquishing.

Education Goals Must Be Clear, Official States

CHICAGO (AP) — A teachers' union official for Ohio says American students, in secondary schools as well as colleges, study in an "air of drab grimness" and with a sense of lacking security.

The goals of education must be made clear and worthwhile, in the view of Mrs. Dorothy Matheny of Toledo, Ohio vice president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers. She spoke here Thursday before the federation's 17-member executive council.

"After decades of neglect of its schools and colleges, society looks to the schools and teachers for a solution of all its ills," Mrs. Matheny said.

She said teachers must find a way to show what makes up true education and must "make it important to students to gain security by an inner self-respect and self-confidence that can come only through true learning, not with reliance upon the outward symbols of it."

Crisp, Freezing Weather Covers Wide U.S. Areas

By The Associated Press

The North Pacific Coast also reported cloudy skies and light rain.

Miami Of Ohio Star Signs Denver Contract

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The Denver Broncos of the American Football League say Tom Nomina, Miami of Ohio standout tackle, has signed a pro contract with them.

Nomina, 6-feet-4 and 269 pounds, was a major worker in the Redskins' upset of Purdue that helped bring them a post-season Tangerine Bowl game, which they lost to Houston.

Police Arrest Woman As Burglary Suspect

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police arrested what they described as a very determined woman on suspicion of burglary early today.

The woman, Bureda Crowley, 34, was arrested inside an A&P supermarket, police said.

Police gave this account of the incident:

But the hole wasn't big enough for her to gain entrance, so she reached through the hole and retrieved the basket.

Then she hurled it through a plate glass window, and she was able to climb through that opening.

Gets Political Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry F. Ryan, 46, has been named Franklin County Democratic Party chairman, succeeding Walter F. Heer Sr. who resigned Thursday after a 31-year tenure. The county executive committee Thursday night also named Marvin Yerke, realtor, to the post Ryan is relinquishing.

Crisp, Freezing Weather Covers Wide U.S. Areas

By The Associated Press

Cloudy skies and crisp, freezing temperatures, accompanied by scattered snow and rain in some areas, covered most of the nation today.

A broad band of clouds and fog covered the area from Texas eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard. During the night, scattered light rain fell in much of Texas and in the South Atlantic Coast states.

The North Pacific Coast also reported cloudy skies and light rain.

Miami Of Ohio Star Signs Denver Contract

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The Denver Broncos of the American Football League say Tom Nomina, Miami of Ohio standout tackle, has signed a pro contract with them.

Nomina, 6-feet-4 and 269 pounds, was a major worker in the Redskins' upset of Purdue that helped bring them a post-season Tangerine Bowl game, which they lost to Houston.

Education Goals Must Be Clear, Official States

CHICAGO (AP) — A teachers' union official for Ohio says American students, in secondary schools as well as colleges, study in an "air of drab grimness" and with a sense of lacking security.

The goals of education must be made clear and worthwhile, in the view of Mrs. Dorothy Matheny of Toledo, Ohio vice president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers. She spoke here Thursday before the federation's 17-member executive council.

"After decades of neglect of its schools and colleges, society looks to the schools and teachers for a solution of all its ills," Mrs. Matheny said.

She said teachers must find a way to show what makes up true education and must "make it important to students to gain security by an inner self-respect and self-confidence that can come only through true learning, not with reliance upon the outward symbols of it."

Junior Editors Quiz on GLASS

QUESTION: How is shatter-proof glass made?

ANSWER: Although glass is one of man's most useful inventions it is made very simply, by taking sand, adding other ingredients such as lime and soda and heating until the materials melt — when it becomes glass. To make glass for windows, the white hot mixture is pressed out between rollers.

As cars became more and more popular, they were made with windows which could be rolled up and down. The tendency of glass to fly off in sharp splinters when broken made the windows extremely dangerous in case of accident.

The three young people in our picture are demonstrating the ingenious principle which is back of the solution to the car window problem. Modern shatter-proof glass is really a sandwich; here are two glass sheets and between them a piece of transparent vinyl plastic. This is bonded with the glass by pressure and heat. In case of accident, car windows may fracture, but the splinters will not fly off to injure anyone, because they are firmly held by the layer of plastic inside.

FOR YOU TO DO: Want something unusual in the way of a hobby? Make a collection of glass bottles of different sizes and shapes.

★ ★ ★

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Dec. 28th, the 362nd day of 1962. There are three days left in the year.

On this day in 1933, the acting secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau Jr., issued an order calling in all gold coin, bullion and certificates. He also called in certificates still outside the Treasury of the Federal Reserve banks and their member institutions.

On this day:

In 1836, Spain recognized Mexico's independence.

In 1908, an estimated 84,000 lives were lost when an earthquake totally destroyed the city of Messina, Sicily.

Junior Editors Quiz on GLASS

QUESTION: How is shatter-proof glass made?

ANSWER: Although glass is one of man's most useful inventions it is made very simply, by taking sand, adding other ingredients such as lime and soda and heating until the materials melt — when it becomes glass. To make glass for windows, the white hot mixture is pressed out between rollers.

As cars became more and more popular, they were made with windows which could be rolled up and down. The tendency of glass to fly off in sharp splinters when broken made the windows extremely dangerous in case of accident.

The three young people in our picture are demonstrating the ingenious principle which is back of the solution to the car window problem. Modern shatter-proof glass is really a sandwich; here are two gla s sheets and between them a piece of transparent vinyl plastic. This is bonded with the glass by pressure and heat. In case of accident, car windows may fracture, but the splinters will not fly off to injure anyone, because they are firmly held by the layer of plastic inside.

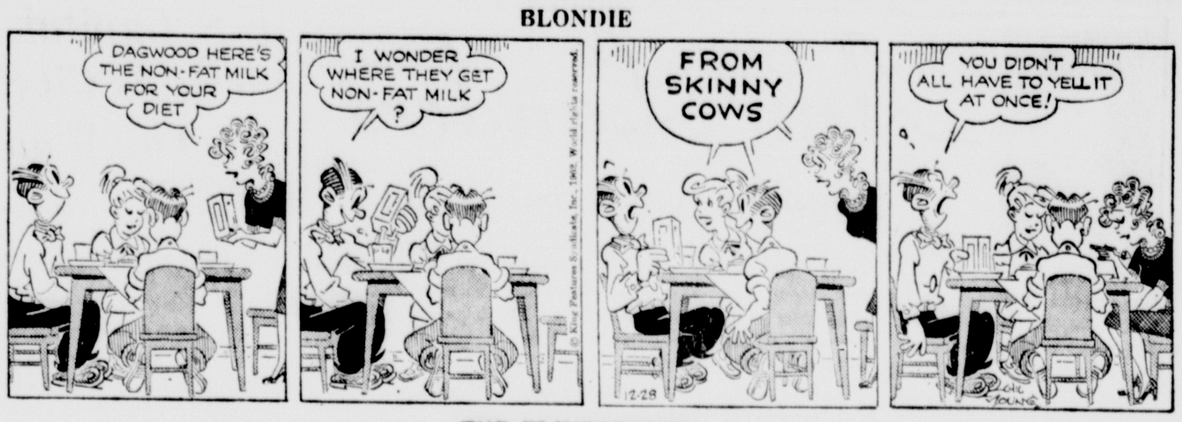

★ ★ ★

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My son is 15 years old and he has been going to boy-girl parties since he was 12. I was shocked to see your advice to the Canadian mother.

You said a boy 14 was too young for kissing games and that she should keep him at home. Just because the boy won a prize for kissing a girl for 15 minutes is no reason to be hard on him.

Teen-agers today want to be part of the gang. It's very hard to be the only one in the group who can't do something, or go some place. The teen-ager who is made to feel "different" develops an inferiority complex and he comes to hate his parents because their restrictions made him an outcast.

I see nothing wrong with a little experimentation at an early age. I agree that passionate kissing for a 14-year-old wouldn't be good, but these kids are only playing at being grownups. Why spoil their fun? — UNDERSTANDING MOTHER.

Dear Mother: My desk is stacked high with letters from teen-agers who are in deep trouble as a result of "experimenting" and playing at being grownup."

It's interesting that you endorse kissing games for 14-year-old boys, but not passionate kissing. Do you honestly believe you can tell kids how to kiss once they have started? Well, I can tell you, Lady, they aren't going to ask.

At 14 boys should be expending their energies in scouting, sports and school activities. The kissing can come a few years later without damage to their personalities, social status or love for their parents.

Remorseful Mate

Dear Ann: I know you aren't running a bureau for missing persons but I want my wife back.

We've been married six years and I was the world's biggest heel. I used to stay out till all hours, five nights a week, always with some phony excuse. When I think of the time and money I spent on a bunch of bums I realize what a fool I was.

We have two kids, the baby is only 4 months old. Last night we really had a row. I came home with lipstick on my shirt. She told me I could take my choice—either stay home and act like a husband and father or she was leaving. I told her I'd stay home when the baby got older, but the crying got on my nerves.

Tonight when I rolled in (about 1:30 a.m.) I found a note. My wife has gone back to her folks and she took the kids with her. I'd give anything if she'd come home. I'd even walk the floor with the baby till he's 9 years old.

Please print this letter. I know she'll see it because she never misses your column. — ON MY KNEES.

Dear Knees: Here's your letter and I'm not giving any clues as to the origin. There are dozens of sorry husbands around who could have written it. Let's hope this helps all of them.

Top Secretary

Dear Ann: It is apparent that the secretary who signed herself "Seattle" has never worked in a small organization.

I have been a secretary for 25 years. I also make a fine salary and am considered top caliber. We have janitorial services for general cleaning but they are not on call at all hours of the day.

What would this "top caliber" secretary do if she spilled coffee on the floor, or on her desk? Would she let it stand until the janitors arrived?

Many a time I have opened windows to air out a stuffy office, emptied ash trays, watered plants, rearranged furniture, cleaned and dusted, washed coffee cups and percolators.

Such tasks are not demeaning. They are the small chores that a conscientious secretary performs because she takes pride in her work. — NOT TOO PROUD.

Dear Not Proud: Cheers, Girl! I'm with you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

U.S. Capital Seen As City On The Wane

WASHINGTON (AP)—To many, she's the jewel on the Potomac.

But to a committee of architects—who are supposed to know about such things—Washington, D.C., is a city on the wane.

The gloomy report on Washington was compiled by a committee of the American Institute of Architects. It's published—136 pages of it—in the institute's January Journal.

In the century and a half since Pierre L'Enfant laid out his basic, classical design for the city, it has lost its luster and gone esthetically downhill, says the committee. The group is headed by Paul Thiry, chief architect of the Seattle World's Fair.

Reasons for the reported decline of the city are sudden changes in population, transportation methods and ways of living.

The architects depicted Washington as "a confusion of planning boards and agencies, each concerned with but one fragment of the total picture. Clearly, a centralized planning authority is needed."

Baseball Figure Dies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Darcy Raymond (Jake) Flowers, 60, former major league baseball player with the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers, died Thursday.

Man Abandons Horn; No Toot Due To Teeth

Inside the brown leather case was this note:

"I'm disgusted. Since I have false teeth I can't play very good. So whoever finds this sax can have her."

Signed by "a friend," the note also said, "P.S. It's not stolen. When I bought it I had my own teeth."

'Miss Liberty' Dies

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. William H. Newell, 94, who was "Miss Liberty" when the Statue of Liberty was opened in 1886, died Thursday. New York officials selected her "Miss Liberty" when she was 18.

Fire In Cleveland Fatal To Man, 64

95 Attend Chester Kiwanis Dinner For College Students

About 95 attended the 12th annual Chester Kiwanis Club college student banquet Thursday night at the Christian Church with the Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, as speaker.

Forty - one students from 14 colleges and two hospital schools of nursing attended, along with Kiwanis members, their wives and guests. Raymond Stevens, committee chairman, was toastmaster.

Rev. Vogel used as his theme "Enjoying Our Gifts." He said the hardest part about Christmas is enjoying its gifts.

"Too soon they are broken. Too often they do not fit or are of little practical value.

"So it is with life, our most precious gifts are difficult to enjoy. Often they do not seem to fit. Often they do not seem to be of practical value."

He said that life's most important gifts are freedom and moral responsibility. "They are difficult gifts to enjoy because we have to demonstrate our freedom in a world that is highly regimented and because we have to demonstrate our moral responsibility in a world where there are few fences."

Rev. Vogel appealed to the students to see that their freedom "fits" in their world where regimentation extends into every area of their life — into their jobs, their citizenship, their religion and their social life. He urged them to demonstrate moral responsibility in this modern world where many of the old "fences" — rules and regulations — have been blown down by the winds of war and the soft breezes of so-called sophistication.

Students introduced themselves, named their colleges or schools and gave their major and plans for the future. During the program, the group sang "America" led by J. Paul Finley, president. Rev. Vogel gave the benediction.

Police Hunt 2 Men For Beating Up Patrolman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police were conducing an intensive search for two burly men who beat an off-duty patrolman with a large mechanic's wrench early today.

Police said Smith discovered the two men stealing parts of a car in a garage early today. The car belonged to Smith's roommate, Patrolman J. M. Perkins, 23, who was sleeping at the time.

The two men, described as in their early 20s, fled and Smith gave chase. He caught one, according to police, and wrestled him to the ground.

Before help could arrive, the other returned with the wrench and beat Smith on the head, face and body, inflicting possible broken ribs and deep cuts. Then the pair fled.

Durante Pleads Guilty To Traffic Violation

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Jimmy Durante has pleaded guilty to a minor traffic charge arising out of an auto accident Dec. 16 in downtown Chicago.

Durante's rented auto tangled with another auto and a police squad car, after which he received tickets for following too closely, damaging city property and driving without a license.

The case was disposed of in Traffic Court Thursday. Durante pleaded guilty by mail and explaining that he would be unable to appear at the scheduled hearing March 14 because of a night club date in Las Vegas.

Judge Casimir V. Cwiklinski fined Durante $10 for following too closely, and dismissed the other two charges.
